ATHLETICS ARE HELPLESS BEFORE MATHEWSON

Hero of a Decade of League and World Championship Play Rose to Highest Pionacle of His Career—Giants Won in Tenth Inning Rally

Philadelphia, Oct. 8.—Christy Mathewson, master manipulator of the baseball, led the New York Giants to victory at Shibe Park today when he shut out Philadelphia Athletics in a ten inning battle by a 3 to 0 score in the second game of the world's series. Hero of a decade of league and world championship play the famous veteran rose to the highest pinnacle of his diamond career by an exhibition of all round play that wrung volleys of applause from the 20,000 Athletic supporters who were massed in the stands and bleachers expecting to witness a second triumph for the standard bearers of the American League. Box score experts will point to their figures to prove that eleven other Giants were instrumental in winning the second contest of the series, but the Philadelphia fans who filed sadly out of the Athletics ball park spoke only of Mathewson.

For a trifle over two hours and twenty minutes the man whose requiem was sung by thousands of fans after the final game against the Boston Red Sox in the world's series of 1912 turned back the hard hitting Athletics without semblance of a break. Then when he saw that his team mates could not wrest victory from Plank, he took his bat and drove in the run that won the game. Spurred on by his example other Giants added two more.

Quakers Pleaded For a Hit.

Mathewson was the master to the end, Oldring, Collins and Baker being unable to drive the ball outside the diamond in the tenth and final inning, although 20,000 adherents pleaded for a hit that might start a winning rally. As a result of Mathewson's prowess the Giants went back to New York tonight on even terms with the Athletics and the struggle will be renewed at the Polo grounds tomorrow if the weather man so wills, with the two teams in comparatively the same position they were before they crossed bats for the 1913 title.

Ideal Game.

As an exhibition of high class baseball and sensational play today's game was all that an ideal world's championship contest should be. For nine innings the rival clubs battled without advantage, brilliant fielding and thrilling coupes shutting out runs that appeared assured. In the tenth with the shades of darkness settling over the park, the hero of the game terminated the contest just as a dramatist would have staged the final scene.

Athletics Had Chance.

The Athletics had a chance to win in the ninth and many thought poor generalship on the bench threw away the one opportunity that the fortunes of baseball cast their way. Mathewson and Plank had twirled a game that was little short of wonderful up to this point and Plank was beginning to falter under the strain. With the Athletics at bat in the last half of the inning and but a solitary run needed to close the contest, Strunk opened with a single past second. Barry bunted toward Doyle, threw wild past Wiltse. The ball sailed clear to the right field grand stand, while Strunk and Barry rushed around the bases. Strunk was held at third when he had ample time to score. It was the Athletic's lone chance for Wiltse and Mathewson cut down three Athletics in a row immediately afterward.

Larry McLean who substituted for Meyers after the Indian split his finger in practice, singled to right in the tenth inning. Grant ran for him and reached second on Wiltse sacrifice. Mathewson then clinched the game with his clean smash to senter field, while Grant scored. Herzog hit to Collins who threw to Barry to catch Mathewson at second. Apparently Barry was unable to see the ball, and it flashed on to leftfield. Mathewson and Herzog gained an additional base on the misplay. Plank hit Doyle, filling the bases. Flecther followed with a bounder over Baker's head, scoring Mathewson and Herzog.

Aside from the brilliancy of Mathewson the two teams were evenly matched. Plank was not quite as steady at his rival in the box, giving two bases on balls and hitting one batter to Mathewsons solitary pass. The Giants secured seven hits off Plank to the Athletics eight from Mathewson, who struck out five batsmen to Plank's six. New York had eight left on bases to Philadelphia's ten. Fletcher, McLean and Mathewson secured two hits each, a total of six out of the seven recorded by the Giants. Baker was the only Athletic player to get to Mathewson for more than one hit, the home run batsman being credited with two.

Wiltse Starred.

Had it not been for Mathewson's remarkable exhibition in the box and at bat, George Wiltse would have been hailed as the star of the game. As it was, his play was such that it brought him congratulations from both players and fans. Substituted for Snodgrass, first as runner and then at first base in the third inning, Wiltse played a game that equalled anything that Merkle, the Giants regular, has shown this season.

According to the figures of the National Commission 20,563 persons paid admission to witness the game, the receipts amounting to $49,640 compared with the records of the first game here in 1911 the attendance was approximately five thousand less but the receipts $6,000 greater, due to the increase in prices for seats this season.

Probably 4,000 more saw the game from points of vantage outside the park. The two rows of brick houses that overlook Shibe Park on two sides were literally swarming with spectators.

In other respects the scenes attendant on the gathering of the fans were much the same as at the opening game in New York, except upon a smaller scale. Lines of men and boys stood all night in the drizzle awaiting the opening of the gates to the bleachers. During the game thousands stood outside the park, echoing the cheers of those within.

The Details.

Herzog led off for New York. After having two balls and a strike he sent a high fly to Collins and was out. Doyle drove a fly to Strunk and Fletcher ended the inning by falling a victim to strikes.

Baker Failed.

Eddie Murphy was first to face Mathewson. The first pitch was a ball, but the second was a strike and then Murphy sent a slow grounder to Doyle. The New York captain in his anxiety to make a quick throw let the ball go between his legs and Murphy was safe. Reuben Oldring slashed a single to left field, sending Murphy down to second base. Then Collins sacrificed, Snodgrass to Doyle, advancing both teammates. "Hit 'er out Baker" shouted the Athletic rooters as the home run hero stepped to the plate. Mathewson, unperturbed, pitched a wide outshoot for Baker to bite at, but the slugger let it go by for a ball. The crowd shouted. Baker then fouled and on the next pitched ball he was out on strikes. "You didn't do it that time," shouted someone from the stand behind the Giants' bench. McInnis flied to Burns, leaving Murphy and Oldring stranded on the bases.

Burns, first man up for New York in the second inning, struck out on Plank's cross fire balls. Shafer hit up a long fly to Murphy and Murray was quickly disposed of by Plank, who struck him out. Plank was going good.

The Athletics did not trouble Mathewson in the second inning. Strunk shot a grounder to Doyle, who got the ball cleanly and tossed the fast center fielder out by several inches. Burns took care of Barry's high fly and Lapp went out by the strike-out route.

Snodgrass Started.

The best that Larry McLean could do when he came to bat in the third inning for New York was to pop up a fly to Barry. Snodgrass shot a single into left field and the crowd got its first good idea of the New Yorker's "charley horse", for he hobbled slowly to first. Plank sent Mathewson a very wide outshoot which Lapp shot to McInnis to catch Snodgrass but he was easily safe. Mathewson drove a long single to center field. Snodgrass just beat the throw into third, the Giants' pitcher going to second. Wiltse here replaced the crippled Snodgrass. Herzog bounded a grounder to Plank who caught Wiltse between third and home and he was run down by Lapp. Mathewson moved up to third on the play and Herzog took second. Doyle flied to Oldring.

One, Two, Three.

The American League champions were quickly disposed of in their half of the third. Plank was thrown out, Doyle to Wiltse, who replaced Snodgrass at first base. Murphy tried to get away with a safe bunt, but Mathewson fielded the ball in fine style and got the runner at first. Oldring shot a fast grounder to Herzog, who made a pretty throw to Wiltse, retiring the side.

Shafer Got On.

New York rooters shouted for Fletcher to "start something" when he went to bat in the fourth inning. He responded by slashing the ball to Barry, who made a fine stop and threw to first in time to catch the runner. Burns struck out for the second time. Shafer hit a grounder to Baker, who threw low to first and Shafer was safe on the error. He was soon out, however, attempting to steal second.

"J. F." Baker Loose.

In the Athletics' half of the fourth, Collins hit to Mathewson and was out at first. Baker brought the fans to their feet by driving a hot single to right field. He went to second on McInnis' out, Doyle to Wiltse.

First Pass.

Mathewson had two strikes on Strunk when he lost his sense of location for a moment and the Athletic batter got the first base on balls of the game. With two smart runners on the bases the crowd shouted for a run. The runners were off with the pitch and Barry hit the ball, but it bounded slowly to second where Doyle scooped it and touched second, retiring the side. This was the second time in four innings that the Athletics had two men left on the bases.

Herzog Failed.

New York managed to get two men on the bases in the fifth inning. Murray drove a fly to left which Oldring easily held and McLean got his first hit of the game, smashing a single close along the third base foul line. Wiltse struck out. Mathewson got a base on balls. It was then up to Herzog, but the third baseman drove one at Collins and was out at first.

Catcher Lapp was an easy out at first in Philadelphia's fifth. Plank rammed a single between first and second. Murphy drove a long fly to Burns who backed almost to the bleacher in left field to make the catch and Oldring was thrown out at first by Fletcher.

The sixth inning was quickly over. Both pitchers were going in magnificent style. Doyle sent a weak bounder to Plank and was tossed out. Fletcher sent a high foul that McInnis got under. Murphy took care of Burns' long fly.

Umps Hooted.

In the Athletics' half Umpire Connolly was hooted when he called Collins for a foul. The ball was bounding along the third base foul line when Herzog got an and dropped it

Loan Educational Fund Established. Gift of $3,000 to Solid South Room—Sessions of State Division at Tarboro.

(Special Star Telegram.)

Tarboro, N. C., Oct. 8.—The founding of a loan educational fund designed to advance money to the Sons and Daughters of Veterans for the purpose of securing vocational education, and the contribution of $3,000 by Mrs. William J. Andrews, of Raleigh, and her sister, Mrs. W. P. Trimble, of Seattle, Wash., to the Solid South Room of Confederate Museum, Richmond, Va., were the two most important announcements made today at the 17th annual convention, North Carolina Division, United Daughters of the Confederacy, in session here.

During the past year North Carolina chapters have maintained 14 scholarships at the various educational institutions in this State and each year the number has increased until the one solution was the establishment of a general fund to carry out the educational work of the Daughters.

Of the $3,000 contribution made by Mesdames Andrews and Trimble, $1,000 is to be devoted to placing a memorial tablet to their mother, Mrs. Frances Ford, of Kentucky, in the Confederate Museum, and the $2,000 is an endowment for the Solid South Room.

Mrs. Marshall Williams, president of the State Division, announced in

Bankers Fight Currency Bill

Boston, Mass., Oct. 8.—The Bankers of the United States again today declared their opposition to the proposed Federal reserve plan of reform in the currency and banking system.

With only one dissenting voice on the final vote, more than two thousand bankers from all sections of the country gathered at the first day's sessions of the annual convention of the American Bankers Association ratified the action of the conference of bangers in demanding amendments to the Federal reserve act now pending in Congress. The financiers also approved the work of their own currency commission which reported the system of governmental control reposed in the Glass-Owen bill to be socialistic and imposing "unwise hardships on the banks and equally unwise hardships on the general public."

The resolutions in which this ratification and approval were contained also included commendation of the President, the Secretary of the Treasury and Congress for their efforts to create in this country an elastic as well as safe currency," and pledged their hearty support for the enactment of proper legislation to that end.

The addition of this paragraph as an amendment to the resolutions was proposed by former Congressman Joseph H. O'Neil, of Boston. Mr. O'Neil was one of several speakers whose remarks had previously been audibly mooted when they rallied to the defense of the administration.

Acting President Arthur Reynolds, of Des Moines, in his annual report, had criticised the currency bill; and former Congressman Ebenezer J. Hill, of Norwalk, Conn., nad attacked the good faith of the administration and introduced resolutions against

OUTLINES

The accidental discharge of a shell aboard a Revenue Cutter at Milwaukee seriously wounded two men.

In a letter sent to the Editor of The Washington Post President Wilson denied stating that all Democrats who opposed him were "rebels."

The five per cent reduction to American ships in the new Tariff law will likely be ruled out by Congress. Several nations have objected seriously to it.

Attorneys for Sulzer yesterday rested their case. Today and Friday will be devoted to arguing the case. It is thought the trial will be finished this week.

NEITHER SULZER NOR WIFE TESTIFY

Defense Rested Their Case Yesterday—Argument Today and Friday.

GOVERNOR DECLINED TO TALK

Would not Shield Himself Behind His Wife—Resting Defense Surprised Impeachment Managers.

Albany, N. Y., Oct. 8.—Without calling either Governor Sulzer or his wife to the witness stand, his counsel today rested their case in the trial of his impeachment. According to D. Cady Herrick, chief of his attorneys, Governor Sulzer decided not to defend himself in shielding himself behind his wife.

It was for Mrs. Sulzer, according to the testimony that the Governor had his Wall street dealings.

Judge Herrick said tonight Governor Sulzer had heard from many quarters, including Washington that "any man who would shield himself behind his wife ought to be removed."

Tomorrow and Friday will be devoted to summing up the case by the opposing counsel: Monday next being a holiday, adjournment probably will be taken until Tuesday, when it is expected the verdict on the Governor's guilt or innocence will be reached.

Friends of the Governor tonight pictured him as a man who had martyred himself for the sake of his wife. Judge Herrick pointed out that the testimony yesterday of Allen A. Ryan best disclosed the reason why the Governor had not taken the stand. This was the conversation which Ryan

President Calls Newspaper Down

Washington, Oct. 8.—Attacks on members of the Senate Banking and Currency committee and efforts to force action by the committee on the administration currency bill were severely condemned in an informal executive session of the committee tonight.

Senators O'Gorman and Hitchcock, singled out as individual objects of two attacks within the past three days, demanded that the committee take up the matter and for an hour the criticisms were discussed.

After the meeting Senator Hitchcock said that the members of the committee had unanimously and individually expressed the opinion that any organized effort to coerce the committee or to circulate unfounded criticisms of members of the committee was to be condemned. He also declared that the members had condemned the criticism of himself made public in a statement by Representative Carter Glass, who piloted the administration bill through the House.

Senator O'Gorman said that the meeting resulted in a general expression of good feeling among the members of the committee and an understanding that no further efforts to force the committee to act prematurely would be tolerated. The letter of President Wilson published today repudiating a quoted statement attributed to him characterizing as "rebels" the Democrats opposing the currency measure, was read in the committee and was accepted as disclaiming any extraordinary efforts on the part of the President to force action by the committee.

Chairman Owen, who has led the support of the President's bill in the committee was not present during the discussion. He left shortly after the committee went into executive session.

Senator O'Gorman apparently was greatly aroused over a criticism of his course in the committee as published today. A few minutes after taking his place at the committee table he interrupted the testimony of Frank A. Vanderlip, of the National City Bank, to remark: "I do not exaggerate when I say that no member of this committee is in favor of enacting this bill as it stands today."

Senator Hitchcock expressed the opinion that the committee would find it difficult to hasten consideration of the bill so that it could be passed by the Senate before the beginning of the regular session on December 1st.

The committee adhered to its determination to hear all witnesses desiring to discuss the bill up to October 25th.

General endorsement of several features of the bill was voiced today by Mr. Vanderlip, who also suggested numerous amendments which he said were necessary to make the measure a working success. He will continue his discussion of the bill tomorrow.

Mr. Vanderlip today criticised adversely the independence of the regional reserve banks, the character of the note issue plan and the section compelling all National banks to become members of the proposed system.

He found many excellent qualities in the administration plan and took issue with many bankers who have criticised it adversely. A repetition of the panic of 1907 from such causes as brought it about, would be impossible under the proposed system, said Mr. Vanderlip. He declared the call loan market would be greatly minimized under the new plan and that hundreds of millions of dollars now used for call loans on stock exchange collateral would be turned into commercial channels. The reserve system proposed would be superior to the present system, he said.

The letter made public by President Wilson in refutation of certain published reports of his activity in currency legislation was as follows:

"To the Editor of the Washington Post:

"Sir:—I am quoted in your issue of this morning saying that any one who does not support me is no Democrat, but a rebel. Of course, I never said any such thing. It is contrary both to my thought and to my character, and I must ask that you give a very prominent place in your issue of tomorrow to this denial.

"Very truly yours,

"WOODROW WILSON."

FEDERAL VICTORY MAY PROVE A JOKE

Rebel Troops Gather in Large Force Twenty Miles From Piedras Negras.

ONE HUNDRED FEDERALS SHOT

Gen. Maas and Staff Refused Permission to Pass Through United States Territory En Route to Meeting—Refugees.

Eagle Pass, Texas, Oct. 8.—Suspicion that the bloodless capture of Piedras Negras yesterday by Gen. Maas' advance guard was a Constitutionalist ruse was given plausibility today when it was learned that the main body of the rebels were assembled about Fuente, 20 miles south of the border and plan to close in on Piedras Negras.

It is their intention, Constitutionalist leaders claim, to hem in the Federals about Piedras Negras, cutting them off from their base of supplies, and to attack the several detachments stationed at various points in the State of Coahuila. A brief skirmish occurred at Fuente yesterday. Saloons were permitted to open in Piedras Negras today, but so far there has been practically no disorder. No attempt has been made to molest foreigners. Federal officials issued a statement today reporting that eight Constitutionalists, found in Piedras Negras after the Federal occupation, were executed as spies. Gen. Maas made request of the military authorities here that he and his staff be permitted to pass through the United States to Nuevo Laredo to attend a military conference. Permission was refused.

Wholesale Execution.

Laredo, Texas, Oct. 8.—Gen. Alvarez and his staff of the Federal army, together with 125 Federal soldiers, were executed yesterday in Torreon under orders of Gen. Francisco Villa, of the Constitutionalist forces, according to information from reliable sources brought here today.

With the city of Torreon, the rebels captured practically all of the arms and artillery of the Federals. The battle lasted four days with heavy losses to both sides. Three hundred refugees, most of them Americans, left Torreon before the capture of that city by the Constitutionalists and are making their way overland to the border, according to a dispatch received tonight. They are expected to reach Laredo Friday.

Up to Department of Labor.

Washington, Oct. 8.—With the decision today of John Bassett Moore, acting Secretary of State, that the United States is not under international obligation to furnish an asylum at Eagle Pass for Mexican refugees who are non-combatants, the problem of dealing with the thousands, mostly women and children, who have sought safety in the Texas town, passed to the Department of Labor for solution through the Bureau of Immigration. The task of the bureau will not be difficult, officials said tonight, as the Mexican Federal commander at Piedras Negras has announced that all non-combatants may return to the late rebel stronghold without danger from the Federals.

The American transport Buford left Mazatlan yesterday with 159 refugees aboard, representing all nationalities. She will call for refugees at other west coast ports before she sails northward. The cruiser California is at Mazatlan. With the exception of that port the entire State of Sinaloa is said to be in the hands of revolutionists.

Accident Aboard Revenue Cutter

Milwaukee, Wis., Oct. 8.—A mistake in handling a loaded shell, which it was believed contained no powder, the bride, skillfully rendered the United States revenue cutter Tuscarora today which seriously injured two men.

The injured are F. Diebold, seaman, Muskegon, Mich., left arm lacerated, necessitating amputation wounded in thigh and feet, burned.

Olaf Foss, gunner, right leg badly mangled, wound in neck, physicians found it necessary to amputate leg.

Both probably will recover.

The explosion occurred off Port Washington, while the cutter was en route to Manitowoc to engage in target practice. After the explosion the vessel returned to Milwaukee.

First Lieutnant W. H. Shea was in charge of the vessel.

Foss and Diebold were stationed on the deck knocking the primers out of shells which had been discharged. By mistake a loaded shell had been placed in the lot.

TRAGEDY OF RATES NOW PERPETRATED

North Carolina General Assembly Accepts Proposal of Railroads.

STATE ACCEPTS HALF A LOAF

House Votes Against New Public Service Commission and Strengthens Old Board—Many Local Bills Passed.

(Special Star Telegram.)

Raleigh, N. C., Oct. 8.—The Senate of the North Carolina General Assembly tonight debated from 8 to 11 o'clock the proposal of the railroad companies for the settlement of the inter-State rate differences in North Carolina as presented through the Corporation Commission and Governor Craig, and in the end voted to accept the proposal 35 to 14. The resolution was ordered enrolled for ratification, having passed the House Tuesday night.

When the Senate took up the proposal of the railroad companies for the settlement of the inter-State rate differences the first speaker was Senator Bellamy, of Wilmington, who explained how his city was affected by the freight rate discriminations. He said Wilmington could not compete with Norfolk nor could Newbern, Fayetteville, Washington or any of the seaport and deep water points in this State.

Mr. Bellamy in Opposition.

He said the contention of the business men in his city of Wilmington is that the expected relief is not coming to that city or any other seaport town but that the rates should be based on a North Carolina seaport and not a proposition from the railroads when equitable adjustment is finally obtained.

Senator Bellamy predicted that the rates named in the proposal are not going to stick. That the Virginia cities will not stand for any such proposition as is made in the proposal. He declared it the duty of the General Assembly to reject the proposal or, if it is accepted, to go further and take such action as would be fair to all parts of the State.

If this is a beginning in the fight for just rates and the water rates to North Carolina ports are to be fought out to vigorous and speedy termination in the interest of the people of the whole people through these ports, then there might be some excuse for accepting the proposal.

Good for Old Pitt.

Senator Evans, of Pitt, opposed acceptance as tieing the hands of the State for two years with a 25 per cent. victory. Senator Jones, of Forsyth insisted that the Legislature has no jurisdiction over the matter and acceptance would be only an agreement for the railroads to practice discriminations for two more years at least.

Sense Here.

If Norfolk could be made a basing point by the railroads why couldn't they make Wilmington a basing point?

Bowing to False Idols.

Senator Gilliam favored acceptance. He declared himself willing to follow the Governor, Corporation Commission and other able men who had made a special study of the conditions and take the proposal.

Whole Hog or None.

Senator Nimmocks, of Fayetteville, spoke vigorously against acceptance because the rates are sectional in the proposal. If the railroads could recede from 25 per cent. of the discriminations why not from the other 75 per cent.?

Senators Parson, McLean, Peterson spoke for the resolution as did Senator Council, who is a member of the legislative commission on rates. Senator Wakefield spoke against the proposal as inadequate.

A "Puny Compromise."

Senator McLeod, of Robeson, characterized the proposal as a "puny compromise" and predicted that Senators favoring it would "hear from home." The previous question was called by Senator Bryant. It was an aye and noe vote.

The Senate took recess to 10 o'clock Thursday morning.

Corporation Commission Upheld.

By a vote of 78 to 37 the House tonight adopted the substitute of Mr. Allred, of Johnston, to give the Corporation Commission a rate expert, extra clerical help and to authorize the employment of special counsel as needed, this substitute replacing the bill of Mr. Woodard to create a separate Public Service Commission. The vigorous speeches of the day found rivals in the earnestness of the advocates and opponents tonight. Mr. Justice, who assumed part of the responsibility for the introduction of the bill, advocated the creation of a new commission on the ground that it was beyond human power for three men to do all the work required. He said Chairman Travis, while possessing a remarkable intellect, did not have the physical strength. He denied that it was an attack on the members personally to advocate the creation of a new office whose members should be named by the Governor.

Mr. Brawley, of Durham, wanted to know if the people of North Carolina did not elect the members of the Commission to the very office that Mr. Justice would remove them from and if Mr. Justice did not think the wisdom of all the people equal at least to that of the Governor of the State.

To the first question Mr. Justice answered yes, qualifying it with the declaration that the people had no chance to say what they should do and to the second question he answered that he thought the Governor could make a better selection.

Mr. Wooten believed that the bill was merely a subterfuge to eliminate the members of the Commission from on foul territory. It was the second strike on Collins. He was called out on strikes. Baker drove a wicked grounder to Fletcher, who made a fine throw to first while on the run. McInnis struck out.

In the seventh inning Shafer flied to Strunk. Murray put up a fly that Barry took in easily. McLean drove a long fly to Oldring. One of the best catches of the day was made by Burns who ran in and got Strunk's short fly almost off the ground. Barry hit to Herzog, who made a pretty throw to first ahead of the runner.

Lapp shot a single past Wiltse. Plank sent up a pop fly to Fletcher. Wiltse opened New York's half of the eighth by going out, Collins to McInnis. Mathewson smashed a hard drive to right field. Murphy barely got the ball picked it off his shot tops and turned a somesault. He held the ball, however, and Umpire Egan, who was in right field, signalled that Murphy had made the out. Herzog hit a high fly to center field which Strunk got after a sprint.

Matty Troubled.

Mathewson's first real trouble came in the eighth inning. Murphy grounded out to Wiltse. Oldring was the second out, Fletcher to Wiltse. Collins brought the crowd to its feet by shooting a single into left field. Baker added a sharp single to left field, Collins being held on second. McInnis ended the inning by forcing Collins at third, Herzog making the out unassisted.

The ninth inning opened with Doyle flying out to Strunk. Fletcher hit to centerfield for a base. Burns received a base on balls and Fletcher moved to second. Shafer flied to Oldring and Murray sent up a fly to Murphy.

Then came the Athletics' ninth in which they had golden opportunities to win the game. The crowd rose to its feet as Strunk singled to center. Barry, in attempting to sacrifice him, hit a slow bounder toward second and Doyle, running in, picked up the ball and tossed it to first as Barry flashed over the bag. The throw was bad and Barry raced to second and Strunk to third. All the New York infield surrounded Mathewson for a short conference. Lapp hit weakly to Wiltse and the latter shot the ball to McLean as Strunk rushed toward the plate. McLean easily put the ball on the runner. Barry moved up to third on the out. Plank hit to Wiltse who shot the ball to McLean catching Barry coming home. Lapp reached third and Plank second. Murphy ended the inning by sending an easy grounder to Mathewson. It was great pitching on the part of Mathewson and he received generous applause as h walked to the plate.

Giants See Victory.

The memorable 10th inning saw victory go to the Giants. McLean opened it with a single to right center. Grant was ordered to run for McLean, went to second on Wiltse's sacrifice. Mathewson then won his game by sending a slashing single to centerfield, on which Grant came home. Herzog shot a grounder at Collins and the latter threw the ball to Barry to force Mathewson. Barry appeared to lose sight of the ball and it went over his head as Mathewson passed second and went on to third. Herzog reached second. Plank hit Doyle with a pitched ball and the bases were filled. Fletcher caught one of Plank's fast in-shoots on the end of his bat and drove it down the third-base line. The ball took an unexpected bounce and shot far over Baker's head for a single on which Mathewson and Herzog scored. Burns struck out for the third time and Shafer flied to Murphy.

Mathewson held Philadelphia safe in the latter's half of the inning. Oldring went out, Herzog to Wiltse. Colling struck out and Doyle picked up Baker's grounder and tossed him out at first.

Dropped Dead for Baker.

Philadelphia, Oct. 8.—While watching an electric score board during today's game between the Giants and Athletics, John Sherrick collapsed on the sidewalk and died a few minutes later. Eye witnesses declared Sherrick had just yelled: "Give us another homer, Baker," when the score board showed that the Athletics' star batsman had struck out and the excited fan dropped to the pavement. Heart failure is believed to have caused death.

Admirer of Mathewson.

New York, Oct. 8.—A middle-aged man, who had been leading the cheering in front of a Park Row bulletin board today, dropped dead of heart disease as the news was flashed that Mathewson had made a hit in the 10th inning. The victim of over excitement carried a Bowery Mission membership card in his pocket and letters addressed to Edward O'Brien.

Bad Weather Predicted.

New York, Oct. 8.—The local weather bureau had little encouragement to offer for tomorrow. Its forecast read: "Cloudy, probably rain Thursday and Friday; moderate east winds."

It was not raining at midnight, however, and the fans were hoping that the rain might hold off as it did until the last moments of the game on the opening day, despite threats of a downpour that had prevailed since dawn. The diamond was carefully blanketed immediately after Tuesday's game and as the drainage of the field is almost perfect, it is believed it will be in condition for play.

Mack Reaches New York.

Manager Mack and his Athletes arrived here several hours after the Giants got in. They were accompanied by about 75 Philadelphia followers. Mack when asked whom he would select to pitch tomorrow with Bender and Plank not available, replied with a smile: "I still have others."

The team is in good condition, he said, and needs no day of rest which the weather forecast indicated might be forced upon the players by rain tomorrow.

"MATTY'S GREATEST GAME; PENNANT GOOD AS WON"

"Rube" Says Mathewson Made Not a Single Mistake in Judgment

"WILL WIN MINE FRIDAY"

Picks Tesreau to Pitch and Win Today—Mathewson Double-Crossed Athletics—Plank's Plaint.

BY "RUBE" MARQUARD
Star Giant Twirler.

"I've got to take my time. I'm an old man, nearly forty years old. I can't pick up that ball and throw it the next second."

This was the remark by Eddie Plank today, and we fellows thought there were tears in his eyes. The Athletic infield were trying to hurry him along. Plank simply could not go the pace with Christy Mathewson, who is without doubt the greatest pitcher that ever lived. Matty outguessed both Collins and Baker practically all the way through.

None of us cared to express our opinions openly about Plank, though we every one felt that he was all in until Larry McLean made his second hit.

"Why, this old boy isn't strong enough to shave himself," said Larry, and you ought to have heard Wilbert Robinson roar.

"Say kids", put in Wilbert, "Plank is an old man and they were trying to hand us something when they foretold that he would be there. Everybody take a little swing now for the old boy is a goner and he won't figure in this series any more."

Just as I predicted yesterday, even though I lost my game, the Giants are absolutely confident. They showed this in the second battle for they outgamed the Athletics in every department. Matty had Plank worried from the moment he started to pitch. It was "fight, fight, fight" on our bench. McGraw and Robinson and Matty himself kept shouting to the boys, "Fight them out—they'll quit".

"Will Win Friday."

I don't call the Athletics quitters but I say we had the gamer team, and I will win my battle on Friday. Tesreau will pitch tomorrow and I feel pretty sure McGraw will put me in the next day. Tesreau will be up against a youngster, probably Shawkey, and he'll beat him.

Pennant Good as Won.

I figure that the pennant is as good as won now. True, we are hurt by the absence of Meyers and Merkle, good hitters, but look what Wiltse did. And don't forget McLean. Larry came from a tail-end club and worked just as though he had been accustomed to playing world series games every day. He called the turn on Plank and he had more nerve than anybody on the club, not excluding McGraw.

Mathewson pitched this, the greatest game of his life, without making a mistake on judgment. He had these

Athletics hitters down so fine it was pie to outguess them.

Matty Double-Crossed.

The joke of it was the Athletics said they could tell what Matty was going to pitch by the way he held his hands. Matty was on to this and entirely changed his style, covering up every ball he threw. Collins kept looking for Matty's fast one, and the old boy slipped Eddie a curve, striking him out twice. He crossed Baker the same way. This is brainy pitching, something you could not accuse me of, in the first game. But, believe me, I learned something from Matty today. I have them figured out now and I will make trouble for the Athletics if McGraw gives me another chance.

Mathewson does not overlook one little defect in a hitter and this is one reason why he showed up the American League champions so thoroughly.

"WHY DID I 'GROVE' ONE FOR BAKER?"

(Inspired by Baker's Home Run Tuesday.)

After the din of the battle's roar,
At the close of an October day;
Riddled to shreds by a lop-sided score,
The Giant Soldiers lay.
Picking my way o'er the battle-field,
In wonder at what had occurred,
I thought all were dead, until one raised his head,
And this is the wail that I heard;

Oh! why did I "groove" one for Baker?
I can't dope it out on reflection,
When Murphy hit one, why didn't we run,
And appeal to the Caps. for protection?
Why didn't I beam Eddie Collins,
McInnis and Oldring, I wonder?
Tell "Matty" the grim, when they get through with him,
I will meet him in Heaven up yonder.

Then I knew it was "Rube" their star pitcher,
Who was stormed at with shot and with shell;
And he closed his eyes 'neath the darkening skies,
As he breathed up his last where he fell.
Then I went on my way o'er the field of fray,
Silently, among the dead;
Till I saw John McGraw, sitting holding his jaw,
And these were the words that he said:

Oh! why did I "groove" one for Baker?
Why didn't they lay Collins flat?
If they's had any sense, they'd have jumped the fence,
When Murphy came up to the bat.
Break the news gently to Broadway,
Be kind when you write up the score,
And tell Connie Mack,
That I owe him a whack,
When we meet on that Beautiful shore.

WHITE SOX WON.

Defeated National Leaguers in the First Game.

Chicago, Aug. 8.—The Chicago Americans hammered out a 6 to 4 victory over the Nationals in the first game of the local championship series today. It was a hard hitting contest, both pitching stars, Cheney of the Nationals, and Russell, of the Sox, undergoing punishment. Both were taken out in the eighth.

BANQUET TO HARRISON.

New Governor General to Philippines Welcomed.

Manila, Oct. 8.—A popular banquet to welcome the new governor general of the Philippines, Francis Burton Harrison, was attended today by over 400 guests. Manuel Quezon, Philippine delegate to Congress, was toastmaster.

Governor General Harrison paid high tribute to W. Cameron Forbes, his predecessor.

LIQUOR LAW VIOLATED.

Charleston Grand Jury Asked to Return 300 Indictments.

Charleston, S. C., Oct. 8.—Solicitor Purefoy today asked the grand jury to return indictments in nearly 300 cases of alleged violation here of the liquor law. Evidence submitted was collected by the law and order league agents, of Charleston, in a six months campaign. The solicitor said more indictments would be asked tomorrow.

TO DETERMINE POLICY.

Of Department of Justice Toward Bell Telephone Trust.

Washington, Oct. 8.—Further steps to determine the policy of the Department of Justice toward the American Telephone & Telegraph Company, the so-called "Bell Telephone Trust," were taken today, when N. C. Kingsbury, vice president of the company, had a conference with Attorney General McReynolds. Department officials declined to comment on Mr. Kingsbury's visit, but it is probable that suit under the anti-trust act will not be begun for the present.

Before his visit to the Attorney General Mr. Kingsbury was at the offices of the Inter-State Commerce Commission which is expected to report its opinion of the situation.

Suit is pending in Portland, Ore., to separate the "trust" from its Pacific coast holdings. This suit will determine the applicability of the Sherman law to telephone companies, which do a much greater portion of business within a State than between States.

From Father to Son.

Tunkhannock, Pa., Oct. 8.—There was a gray-haired man watching the score board here today during the world's series game in Philadelphia to whom the success of Christy Mathewson meant more sentimentally than to any one else, except, perhaps, the Giant pitcher himself.

It was Mathewson's father, G. B. Mathewson, of Factoryville. He had been summoned here as a witness in court proceedings, but when his name was called to take the stand he could not be found. Officers discovered him in front of the score board.

"I used to play amateur baseball myself, years ago," said the old gentleman, as he accompanied the officers to court.

Cape San Antonio, Cuba, Oct. 8.—The Italian bark Ticino, which went aground here several days ago, was floated at midnight and towed to Matanzas.

ANNUAL BANQUET LAST NIGHT

North Carolina Branch German American Alliance Celebrate at Germania Hall—Election of Officers.

The annual banquet of the North Carolina Branch of the National German-American Alliance was given last night at the Germania Club, corner Front and Orange streets, and was participated in by two score or more loyal sons of the Vaterland who of all the folks in the world know best how to have a jolly good time. In connection with the banquet there was a business meeting of the Alliance at which the annual election of officers took place.

The officers elected to serve for the coming year were as follows: President, Mr. J. H. Niggel; first vice president, Mr. H. E. Bonitz; second vice president, Mr. C. W. Polvogt; third vice president, Mr. H. T. Duls; secretary and treasurer, Mr. Louis Hanson. All of these officers were re-elected with the exception of the second vice-president. Reports from the various committees were made which showed the affairs of the Alliance to be in splendid shape. The membership of the local branch of the Alliance now numbers 125, and is growing.

Following the business meeting came the banquet which was indeed a feast of good things to eat. Barbecued meats of various kinds and tasteful viands of many descriptions served to make it a most enjoyable occasion. This feature of the programme was in charge of a committee consisting of Fire Chief Chas. Schnibben, chairman, and Messrs. J. W. H. Fuchs, John Haar and Louis Hanson. These gentlemen spared no pains in making arrangements for the elaborate affair, and the result of their efforts was a laden board of the best that was to be had.

The remainder of the evening was given over to the social side. With Mr. E. F. Grossman at the piano members rendered in splendid style many German songs and airs that are dear to the hearts of the Deutschlander. Among those that were sung with much spirit and zest were "Die Wacht Am Rhein," "Deutschland Uber Alles," and "Heil der Ein Seigerkranz." Their patriotism and love for America, their adopted country, was proven when they gathered around the piano and sang, with evident deep feeling and devotion, "My Country, 'Tis of Thee".

FIVE FOUND DEAD.

Father and Four Children—Two Others May Go.

New York, Oct. 8.—Solomon Schasser and four of his children, Samuel, 12 years; Bessie, 7 years; Goldie, 6, and Herman, 3, were found dead in the Schasser apartment today overcome by gas.

The mother and a daughter were removed to a hospital unconscious, and are not expected to live.

Schasser was an itinerant rabbi.

JURY STARTS WORK

On Schmidt Investigation—May Not Go to Trial.

New York, Oct. 8.—The grand jury today began its investigation into the murder of Anna Aumuller, to which the Rev. Hans Schmidt has confessed. Whether Schmidt will be indicted depends, it is believed, on the forthcoming report of alienists who have examined Schmidt in his cell in the Tombs.

TRUCK AND FRUIT SHIPMENTS

Further Announcement of Inter-State Commerce Commission as to Hearings in Wilmington, Newbern and Mt. Olive.

(Special Star Correspondence.)

Washington, D. C., Oct. 8.—The Inter-State Commerce Commission, after several conferences with and promises to Dr. Jno. M. Faison, who, since a member of Congress and before, has taken much interest in these slow, oxcart, badly refrigerated, destructive schedules, which have cost the A. C. L. Co., the Penn. R. R. Co., and the N. S. R. R. Co. many hundreds of thousands of dollars in losses of freights on larger crops, and for years practically blighted the berry, fruit, vegetable and fish industries of Eastern North Carolina—this Garden Spot of the State—much of which is in Dr Faison's Congressional District, has, at last, definitely agreed upon the time for the hearings and investigation of such slow schedules and improper refrigeration, which will be held during the last week in November, 1913.

These hearings will be held by Mr. George P. Boyle, attorney for the Inter-State Commerce Commission, at Wilmington November 24th and 25th; at Mt. Olive November 26th and 27th, and at Newbern November 28th and 29th, 1913.

Dr. Faison has arranged these hearings with the greatest convenience to the growers and shippers within a radius of 40 miles of these towns, and time will be given them in the two days at each town for full accurate reports and estimates of such slow schedules and losses sustained thereby for the last several years.

Dr. Faison will at once take up with the growers and shippers at each shipping station the matter of classifying accurately their dates of these shipments, the time in transit and such slow deliveries to the Northern markets and their losses sustained thereby, so that the growers and shippers can have time to furnish and file definite and accurate evidence with Mr. Boyle, when he holds these hearings in November next.

The shippers and growers at each shipping station should at once organize and appoint a committee of their representative shippers and growers to collect all such data from the records of their railroad shipping stations and from their commission houses in the Northern markets, stating fully, dates of shipment, dates when received when late, and estimates of losses sustained thereby, says Dr. Faison.

"The A. C. L. and Pa. Railroad companies have for years promised faster schedules and better refrigeration, especially for the last three years since I introduced a resolution for such investigation in congress in 1910, but in vain," continued the Congressman, "With the unusually short berry, fruit and vegetable crop of the present season the transportation and refrigeration has been even slower and more blighting than any season before. Had these crops been as large this season as usual, or larger than usual, no doubt the A. C. L. and Pennsylvania Railroad companies would have completely fallen down as they did in the memorable year 1906, when all shipments failed to move for nine days for want of sufficient engines and refrigerator cars to move these crops, which are yet badly needed.

"These hearings at their own doors will give the growers and shippers full opportunity to be heard in November and they should and must use such opportunity to get fast schedules and proper refrigeration, freight, express or cease to grow berries, fruit and vegetables longer. They can make far more net money growing cotton, corn, tobacco, hay and stock and should all agree to stop cultivating these perishable crops unless guaranteed in advance all payment of losses sustained by such "oxcart" schedules and "hot air" refrigeration by the A. C. L. Co. Pennsylvania R. R. Co. and Armour Co.

"The recent annual report of the financial condition of the A. C. L. Co., published in the newspapers of the State, made at the annual meeting of their stockholders and directors in Richmond, Va., in June last showed a net gain in actual profits of about $10,500,000 above all expenses more than the same period of last year ending June, 1912; the usual annual net earnings reported being 28 to 40 per cent of the gross earnings of the railroad company.

"This shows that these railroad companies are making larger profits annually and are well able to furnish rapid transportation and iced refrigeration or pay all such losses. If sued in the State courts and compelled to pay such losses when proper schedules are, they will adopt faster schedules, better refrigeration and thereby increase their net earnings by many thousand dollars for the larger shipments of berries, fruits and vegetables, which the growers and shippers will gladly grow for such shipments, when they know their crops will be properly and rapidly marketed.

"Larger shipments would give cheaper freight rates, also give larger net profits to both railroads and growers, and also relieve the growing louder cry of "high cost of living" in the cities, now hungering for such wholesome Summer foods.

"The usual schedule of these fast (?) "Cannon Ball" express trains has been from two to eight miles per hour for the last ten years, simple, good ox-cart time, when they should be 20 miles per hour at least, and when the railroads find out they must make such schedules, or pay for the losses sustained they will easily make them. It is simply a matter of growers and shippers now getting together, show their losses from these two to eight mile an hour slow ox-cart schedules and demand 20 miles per hour schedules and these railroads will simply make good.

"Proper refrigeration, minimum and maximum carload quantities will also be investigated. Mr. George P. Boyle has been for some time special investigating attorney for the Inter-State Commerce Commission and will give the shippers and growers courteous and careful hearings."

Should the large lumber industry in Eastern North Carolina have similar complaints of slow delivery for want of cars to the Northern markets, Dr. Faison suggests that time will be given them to file their complaints also.

During the past year three members in the Synod have died. The moderator appointed Rev. H. G. Hill, D. D., to prepare a suitable memorial of Rev. David Fairley; Rev. C. A. Munroe, of Rev. B. L. Beall, and Rev. J. E. Summers, of Rev. L. W. Kichner.

On account of the fact that Rev. L. W. Curtis has removed from the Synod of North Carolina to that of Georgia, the moderator appointed Rev. Lee Smith to succeed him as chairman of the committee on young people's societies.

The report of the trustees of Union Theological Seminary showed that the number of students in the seminary the past year was larger than in the history of the Church. Of the 107 students in the seminary, 86 were college graduates, 18 had received college training, and three had no college training. The students are actively identified with city mission work in Richmond, in the penitentiary and elsewhere, while 23 are preparing to go as missionaries to the foreign fields. The number of students in the seminary has doubled in ten years. The seminary is under the joint ownership and control of the synods of Virginia and North Carolina.

Among the several overtures to the General Assembly presented and read was one which recommended that no organic union of the United Presbyterian Church of America with the Southern Church be effected, but that the fraternal relations between the two Churches be continued.

On motion it was ordered that one-half the traveling expenses of Dr. Moore, Dr. Lingle and Dr. C. Alphonse Smith be paid on account of the fact that they came from the Synod of Virginia at the request of the North Carolina Synod, to take part in the programme of the celebration of the centennial of the latter Synod at Alamance church.

The special order for 11 o'clock was the observance of the sacrament of the Lord's Supper, followed by the memorial service. Rev. W. D. Morton, D. D., of Rocky Mount, and Rev. R. A. Miller, D. D., of Lowell, conducted this joint service. At the close of this service the memoirs of the three ministers who died during the past year, named above, were read.

No session of the Synod was held this afternoon, in order that the committees might have time for their work. The popular meeting in the interest of Foreign Missions, which was held this evening, was of more than usual interest, on account of the great forward step the Synod of North Carolina has taken during the past year in contribution to Foreign Misisons, having given $112,000 to this cause alone.

Rev. R. F. Campbell, D. D., of Asheville, presided over the meeting and read the report of the permanent committee on Foreign Missions.

Two misisonaries of the Church were present, and addressed the meeting: Rev. W. M. Morrison, of Africa, and Rev. S. R. Gammon, of Brazil.

The addresses of both emphasized the need of the gospel for the unsaved millions in the mission fields.

The two recommendations in the report on Foreign Missions were that pastors preach frequently on foreign missions; that more mission study classes be organized, and the monthly concert of prayer for foreign missions be observed in all churches of the Synod. The report was adopted.

Some of the ablest members of the Synod of North Carolina have become convinced that the work of the Church, and especially the cause of Home Missions, would be advanced by the organization of a new Synod, to be composed of mountain territory entirely. The plan they approve is for the mountain territory of the Synods of North Carolina, Virginia, West Virginia, Kentucky, Tennessee and Georgia to be taken from those Synods, and to be used in making the new Synod, to be known as the Appalachian Synod. The General Assembly alone can order the formation of a Synod, and it is not unlikely that this plan of members of this Synod will be expressed in the form of a memorial to the General Assembly at a date not far distant.

EPISCOPALS ELECT PRESIDENT.

Low Church Candidate Wins By Close Vote.

New York, Oct. 8.—What was looked upon as the first test of voting strength between the high church and low church factions came late today at the Triennial Convention of the Protestant Episcopal church when the Rev. Dr. Alexander Mann, rector of Trinity church, Boston, was elected president of the House of Deputies.

Dr. Mann was candidate of the low church elment and defeated the Rev. Dr. W. T. Manning, rector of Trinity church, New York, by the vote of 250 to 242.

The President wields a strong influence in the councils of the house of deputies. He has duties and powers analogous to those of the Speaker of the House of Representatives in the United States.

The election of Dr. Mann was regarded by members of the low church party as a substantial victory. One result of the vote, some of them declared would be that the question of changing the denominational name to the American Catholic Church probably would not be placed before the convention. High church delegates asserted on the other hand that the vote was too close to give any indication what course legislation would take.

Dr. Henry Anstics, of New York was elected secretary. Dr. Mann appointed as assistant secretaries the Rev. Carroll M. Davis, of St. Louis; Rev. William C. Prout, of Herkimer, N. Y., and Rev. James G. Glass, of Anniston, Ala.

The House of Bishops at an executive business meeting today elected Bishop Boyd Vincent, of Southern Ohio, chairman, and re-elected Dr. Samuel Hart, of Connecticut, secretary. It was announced that a memorial was presented by Bishop Alfred Harding, of Washingeton proposing a constitutional amendment providing for a revised method of representation in the House of Deputies. What action was taken, if any was not stated. The House of Bishops will resume itas meeting tomorrow morning.

McGraw Cheerful.

New York, Oct. 8.—New York's baseball heroes, conquerors over the Athletics for the day at least, arrived here from Philadelphia early this evening and ran into a misty rain and a welcoming delegation of several hundred fans. A mighty shout greeted Christy Mathewson when he stepped from the train. "Bix Six" accepted the ovation smilingly and hurried through the cold to a taxicab.

Merkle, limping badly, leaned on the arm of Jim Thorpe. Meyers wrist and split thumb were tightly bandaged.

"Here we are," said Manager McGraw, "but we look badly battered," nodding toward Merkle and Meyers.

"Whose going to pitch for the Giants tomorrow?" someone asked the New York leader.

"Well, I should say that any one of my remaining pitching staff looks good enough for me, in comparison with what our opponents have left to pitch against us." McGraw replied cheerfully.

The Giants went to their homes to rest for tomorrow's game.

Boston, Oct. 8.—Releases of three players were announced by the Boston National club today. "Hap" Myers, despite his base stealing exploits of the past season, goes back to the minors again on unconditional release to Rochester of the International League. Zinn, secured from the Rochester club this season, also goes back to that team unconditionally. Fred V. Smith is released to the Mobile team of the Southern Association under an optional agreement.

FULL ASSOCIATED PRESS REPORT

PUBLISHERS' ANNOUNCEMENT.

THE MORNING STAR, the oldest daily newspaper in North Carolina, is published daily except Monday, at $6 per year, $3 for six months; $1.50 for three months; 50 cents for one month, served by carriers in the city, or by mail.

THE SUNDAY STAR, by mail, one year, $1; six months, 50 cents; three months, 25 cents.

ADVERTISING RATES may be had on application, and advertisers may feel assured that through the columns of this paper they may reach all Wilmington, Eastern Carolina and contiguous territory in South Carolina.

Obituary sketches, cards of thanks, communications espousing the cause of a private enterprise or a political candidate and like matter will be charged at the rate of 10 cents per line, to persons carrying a regular account, or, if paid cash in advance, a half rate will be allowed. Announcements of fairs, festivals, balls, hops, picnics, excursions, society meetings, political meetings, etc., will be charged under the same conditions, except so much thereof as may be of news value to readers of the paper, in the discretion of the editors

TELEPHONES: Business Office, No. 51; Editorial and Local rooms, No. 61. Call either, if the other doesn't answer.

COMMUNICATIONS, unless they contain important news, or discuss briefly and properly subjects of real interest, are not wanted; and, if acceptable in every other way, they will invariably be rejected unless the real name of the author accompanies the same, not necessarily for publication, but as a guarantee of good faith.

ALL DRAFTS, checks, express money orders, and postal money orders, for the paper should be made payable, and all communications should be addressed to, THE WILMINGTON STAR CO.

It often happens that the "pending measure" is two by three.

Returning will be different from "coming back" when Col. Roosevelt returns from the jungles of South America.

Doubtless, being "the same old Bill" after he got to be Governor is what got Governor Sulzer into all this trouble.

A darkey's idea of the meaning of "incarcerated" is that it sginifies that some white person has been committed to jail.

While a woman is seeing that somebody else does the work to her satisfaction, she works harder than the person on the job.

Secretary Daniels insists that the Navy must get on the waterwagon. He means it, but it looks like putting the cart before the horse.

"Lo! the poor Indian" wouldn't be so poor if he would quit fooling with the land lawyers who can see more opportunities than an Indian.

The woman who took poison because she could not bear to be separated from her children took a step that may separate her from them for all eternity.

Argentina is now inviting American farmers there to develop the cattle industry on a larger scale. If they do it home first they would not have to go to South America.

In order to have clean markets all municipalities might try a market commission composed of women. In many respects one woman has more common sense than ten men.

Dr. Wiley, who is now writing for a woman's magazine, claims that "woman was created before man." She might have been before him at the start but she has been right behind him ever since.

The Republicans are gloating over the fact that they carried a Congressional district in Maine. But look what a load the district will have in carrying the Republicans for the next two years!

When one considers how much time the Corporation Commission is compelled to spend defending itself it ceases to be a matter for wonder that it resents the charge of idleness.—Greensboro News.

A Progressive newspaper was blown up in Pennsylvania a few days ago. Republicans are suspected of using dynamite to get even with the editor. This shows how lively Republicans and Progressives can make it for each other when they get together.

If the Legislature which acts in its representative capacity for a sovereign State cannot secure just freight rates without compromising with merely incorporated institutions, what can it expect of a Corporation Commission that has no power except what is delegated by the Legislature?

The Richmond Journal says: "Look out for fake telephone inspectors—one of whom yesterday inspected two gold rings from a private residence." If the inspector doesn't know where the 'phone is, he is either a fake or a new man. If he is a new man he ought to carry credentials from the company.

Fairs ought to be well advertised in the local papers where they are held. A Wilmington man who wants to take in a fair in a certain North Carolina town has searched its papers in vain for the dates of the fair. Publicity means as much for the success of a fair as its exhibits, for it is publicity that gets the crowds. A big crowd and something worth seeing spells success for a fair.

What if the railroads should bottle up New Orleans and prevent it from becoming the Panama port of the great Mississippi valley country? On the contrary, they are preparing to handle traffic that is bound to enter commerce through New Orleans on account of canal traffic. Another new through line up and down the Mississippi valley is being linked up and a hundred miles of road will be built to complete the new trunk line that wants to get the advantage of a port.

THE BARGAIN TO BOTTLE UP.

Rocky Mount is a city on a direct line of railway into two ports—Wilmington and Norfolk. It has been denied any relief on account of its nearness to deep water at Norfolk, but owing to the fact that Rocky Mount is in North Carolina it has been discriminated against in freight rates like all of North Carolina. At least the Rocky Mount telegram all along has made a noise like Rocky Mount has not been getting a square deal in freight rates. Rocky Mount ought to be getting some benefit out of a rate basing port at Wilmington, but the railroads, according to the insistence of the Charlotte Observer, keep the port of Wilmington bottle up—throttled so far as Charlotte and Rocky Mount are concerned. Despite that fact, our esteemed Rocky Mount contemporary seems to rejoice at the opportunity of giving this advice to Wilmington and Newbern:

"Wilmington and Newbern are laying awake at night complaining of their being bottled up in the matter of freight shipments, and such complaint reminds us of the old lady with nervous complaint because she had nothing else to think about. Any ailment can be made worse by thinking about it, and in fact Wilmington and Newbern have no ailment at all and instead the greatest natural advantages and with a little activity on the part of its citizens and the establishing of a boat line they might pull the railroads to their knees and make them beg for the business. Stop begging and complaining brothers and get busy, you have no complaint to remedy, and the only way to improve your condition and grow is to fall in and work for better things."

The Telegram ought to know that the port of Wilmington is not so completely bottled up against Wilmington as it is bottled up against Rocky Mount and other important towns in the State—for instance, Charlotte, which is a junction point with direct rail connection with this port. Rocky Mount and Charlotte, by reason of the advantage of rates based on the water rate here, ought to be fortunate, but the railroads have Rocky Mount and Charlotte fenced off from North Carolina's port and are compelling their subserviancy to the port of Norfolk.

The editors of North Carolina don't seem to be able to see it that way, else they would be demanding a North Carolina rate basing port either at Wilmington or Cape Lookout—anywhere it is possible to get it. In reading the editorials in the State press, we are amazed at the prevailing idea that the port of Wilmington is a local affair, to be made the most of by Wilmington. Some of them are unwittingly giving advice along that line, but they ought to broaden their scope and take a point of view that shall include the whole State of North Carolina. It is North Carolina that ought to be getting the benefit of a port—not Wilmington, not Newbern. It is not Wilmington that ought to get the benefit from deep water, but North Carolina. It is Virginia cities, as far away as Lynchburg, that get low rates because Norfolk is recognized as a rate basing port, and that Richmond, Petersburg and other Virginia cities are made rate basing points.

It would strike a man up a tree that at least North Carolina editors should realize what recognition of Norfolk as a rate basing port has done for the entire State of Virginia. If they do recognize the vital cause of lower rates in Virgina, it is astonishing that they do not urge North Carolina to lose no time in having one of her ports recognized as a rate basing point.

Our failure to note a proper appreciation on the part of the press of the necessity for a rate basing port for the State is not because of an oversight. We observe it because of the editorial expressions that crop out occasionally, something like this from such a paper as the Greensboro News:

"If the rest of the State was not justified in stepping on Wilmington Mr. Taylor seems to be doing his best to make it think it was."

So the enlightened editor of the News seems to have conceived the idea that the balance of the State has "stepped on" Wilmington and that it is a matter to be justified, especially because of the position of one Wilmington man—one among thousands. We despair when any portion of North Carolina could "step" on its port—not on Wilmington. It looks altogether like not knowing that the State is stepping on itself—not Wilmington.

The cause of low rates for Virginia is the rate basing port of Norfolk. The justification of the railroads for favoring Virginia and discriminating against North Carolina is the rate basing port of Norfolk. In the light of that palpable fact, even set up by the railroads in their defense, we fail to see how any North Carolinian can approve the stepping on business.

The railroads are "stepping on" North Carolina's port and they are actually bartering with the State for that privilege. When the State, or any portion of it, assists the railroads and aids them to accomplish their purpose, with malice aforethought, North Carolina would present a lamentable spectacle.

The railroads are anxious to continue the business of bottling up North Carolina's water points. It has been a cinch for them and a calamity for North Carolina. They now ask for legislative consent for them to "bottle up" at the same old stand and offer to buy that consent with an ambiguous promise of lower rates in the interior. That the bait looks good to any North Carolinian would be painful to even the Sphinx.

Will North Carolina take pay for bottling up her port—not Wilmington?

PROTECTING A PORT.

The government has done a great deal for the deep water port of New London, Conn., but that progressive State had the foresight to make the port available for the benefit of the State. A deep water port was useless to the public without publicly owned or controlled terminals, so the State decided to spend $1,000,000 or more in the construction of modern harbor terminals to be controlled by the State for the State. Of course, there are private terminals, but not on the scale of the public terminals, and neither could the State expect the relief from private water front property that it could secure from its own terminals.

Connecticut neglected to aid the railroads in bottling up her deep water port. Evidently so progressive a State concluded that would be a bad idea, therefore, as a matter of public protection the State went into the terminal business on her own hook. Thus Connecticut made it possible to build up her commerce, not the commerce of New London. The port was not able to construct its own terminals and there are very few ports that are able to do so, but the constructive State of Connecticut saw its opportunity to free its port from domination and make it a port capable of a great commerce. Thus, the Nutmeg State will free herself from freight rate discrimination and have a port that is getting ready to share largely in Panama Canal traffic. The enlightened State of Connecticut seems to be different. She would not "step on" her port if she could.

We have right before us a copy of illustrated Shipping and in it is an illustrated article on the port of Santos, which is next to Rio Janiero, the most important port of Brazil. Santos is the ocean gateway through which flows nearly all of Brazil's coffee, which constitutes the chief industrial article of the State of Sao Paulo. Among the illustrations in the article there is a picture showing crude port facilities in 1882. There is another up-to-date picture showing that the port has been developed on a scale of magnificence and has been equipped with the very latest terminal devices of modern times. The State of Sao Paulo did it and spent millions of dollars for the good of the State. Santos is doing millions of dollars of commerce. Last year the port handled 1,761 vessels of a total tonnage of 4,229,316 tons. It will be noted that Sao Paulo never aided any railroad in bottling up Santos.

While Col. Roosevelt is hunting in South America he will try to concoct a new way of treeing a third term.

CURRENT COMMENT.

Wilmington, N. C., wants water and, also, beer. This merely indicates that Wilmington is like all other North Carolina towns—wats everything in sight and most everything that is out of sight. Of course, Wilmington wants water to drink and beer to bathe in.—Rock Hill (S. C.) Herald.

If the Dukes are satisfied as to the future of North Carolina and they are sufficiently informed of its possibilities as well as its enterprise to remain no longer in doubt, they ought to proceed with their plans of interurban development. A rich and business producing area of the State awaits the coming of this road.—Charlotte Observer.

Messrs. J. Coit Redfern and P. T. Rhyne made a trip through Virginia, Tennessee and the mountains of North Carolina hunting a good strain of short-horn cattle from which to breed beef. Mr. Redfern has 11 head of which he is very proud. He will have a part of them on exhibit at the street parade on November 21st. Mr. Carpenter, of Cedar Hill, has a fine thoroughbred strain also which will be on exhibit. With the high price of beef it is a pleasure to look at these short-horn beefs.—Wadesboro Messenger-Intelligencer.

The Observer has consistently opposed the proposed Bible amendment to the Constitution. We may therefore consistently regret that our friend Dr. David Stern, of Greensboro, has taken occasion in The Daily News to repeat his statement first made in Raleigh last week to the effect that the city of Charlotte was afraid to entertain Jefferson Davis in 1865 and that only a Jew would take him in. Even if the statement were correct, it would not help much in an argument, but we feel sure that the "profound stillness" stated to have accompanied the speaker's remarks was also accompanied by a quiet smile on the part of several present who were better informed in the history of North Carolina and of the Confederacy.—Charlotte Observer.

MR. KEITH REPLIES.

To the Editor of The Star:

I see in your today's issue an article from one, E. Strickland, of Burgaw, saying: "If the people in New Hanover would keep Frank Keith in the Custom House, instead of trying to lead the Democratic Legislature, people around here think that they would stand a better show, and it is talked around here that Keith is working for another job—that if the stock law carries and turns out to be unpopular, he would curse and abuse the Democrats, and if it should turn out popular, he would want all the credit for it."

I cannot conceive of how such vivid imagination could feast, except on "seed ticks." I will venture to say that the gentleman who is writing, buys the meat and butter he uses, unless he has a pasture, which he would have if he had the stock law. I will further inform him that I have made the same fight that I am now making for the last 15 or 20 years; when the Populists and Republicans were in control of the Legislature of North Carolina, I was there begging them to give us relief from the ticky cattle running at large and the "piney-woods rooter." Some of those Populists and Republicans were little enough to say the same thing Mr. Strickland says is reported around Burgaw, namely: that I was a Democrat and trying to defeat the Populist and Republican parties. I have heard this repeatedly but never from a man who has the good of his community, State and Nation at heart.

I know it has been unpopular, more so formerly than now, to advocate measures that are so different from what people have been accustomed to, but we have to change, as circumstances change; it has been so from creation, or at least where civilization has gone forward.

If Mr. Strickland will take time and go through the territories that have the stock law, inquiring from the honest, industrious people, rich and poor alike, if they are not better off since adopting the stock law, in an agricultural way, stock raising, etc., I will get up a subscription from the progressive citizens of our county—Pender—and pay his expenses to investigate, provided he will take oath before a notary public or justice of the peace that he will go, investigate, and come back and make an impartial report.

I have seen several pieces in The Star from parties at Burgaw opposing the stock law but there was no argument in the articles, as there can be no reasonable argument against the stock law, which permits a man to let his worthless stock roam at large, destroying forests, farms and the better grade of stock, thereby depriving the entire people of prospering and making an easier and better living, simply because some man is opposed to it because he does not know any better; and when I say this I do not mean that every man who is opposed to the stock law is not honest in his opinion for a majority of those who are opposing it are as sincere in their conviction as those who have seen it tried and know its benefits by experience and observation.

As for my staying in the Custom House and attending to my business, I will refer the gentleman to the department at Washington as to how my office has been conducted since I have been at its head, and while here I think I have been able to serve his (Mr. Strickland's) community to an advantage which probably would not have been if I had not been in a position to do so. I do not know whether he received any of the benefits or not but I presume he did, either directly or indirectly. When the flood came a few years ago and destroyed the crops of the Cape Fear, Northeast and Black river sections, by knowing the conditions and in sympathy with the people of those sections, I worked day and night begging and persuading and recommending aid for those people in the way of furnishing them with seed, cern, etc., to re-establish them agriculturally.

Of course I expected to be criticised, for every man who does anything will be, but I want to say this, everything that I have ever advocated, I have thought it was for the best interest of the people at large, and when we get the stock law, which we will, Mr. Strickland will probably be like one of Duplin's best citizens near Warsaw, who fought the stock law strenuously for Warsaw township a few years ago and after having tried it thoroughly he was honest enough to make an open confession to his friends that he had fought the best thing that was ever offered him and that he wanted to apologize to his friends whom he so bitterly opposed, and admitted that he had come to the conclusion that he did not know how to vote when it came to voting for his best interest.

I desire to further state that I have no axe to grind and what I am doing, or attempting to do, as stated above, is for what I conceive to be for the best interest of every living person in Pender and adjacent counties who have not the stock law.

Respectfully,
B. F. KEITH.

AMERICAN IS PEACE-MAKER.

Warring Factions Induced to Sign Peace Pact.

Sando Domingo, Dominican Republic, Oct. 8.—The American minister to the Dominican Republic, James W. Sullivan, has induced the warring factions in this country to sign a peace pact and the revolution headed by Gen. Horatio Vasquez against the government of Provisional President Jose Bordas Valdez is ended.

The American minister's action is the first successful application of the United States government's new Latin-American policy with regard to the Dominican Republic, which is to the effect that the force of arms can never again settle any question in this country.

How to Make Better Cough Syrup than You Can Buy

A Family Supply, Saving $2 and Fully Guaranteed.

A full pint of cough syrup—as much as you could buy for $2.50—can easily be made at home. You will find nothing that takes hold of the ordinary cough more quickly, usually conquering it inside of 24 hours. Excellent, too, for spasmodic croup, whooping cough, bronchial asthma and bronchitis.

Mix one pint of granulated sugar with ½ pint of warm water, and stir for 2 minutes. Put 2½ ounces of Pinex (fifty cents' worth) in a pint bottle, then add the Sugar Syrup. It keeps perfectly. Take a teaspoonful every one, two or three hours.

This is just laxative enough to help relieve a cough. Also stimulates the appetite, which is usually upset by a cough. The taste is pleasant.

The effect of pine and sugar syrup on the inflamed membranes is well known. Pinex is a most valuable concentrated compound of Norway white pine extract, rich in guaiacol and other natural healing pine elements. Other preparations will not work in this combination.

This Pinex and Sugar Syrup remedy has often been imitated, but the old successful mixture has never been equaled. It is now used in more homes than any other cough remedy.

A guaranty of absolute satisfaction, or money promptly refunded, goes with this preparation. Your druggist has Pinex, or will get it for you. If not, send to The Pinex Co., Ft. Wayne, Ind.

DEATH OF MRS. LOCKAMY.

Aged Lady Passed Away at Walker Memorial Hospital Last Night.

Many friends will learn with deep regret of the death of Mrs. Mildred Lockamy, which occurred last night at 7 o'clock at the James Walker Memorial Hospital. She had been in feeble health for a long time, but it was not until a week ago that her condition became so serious that it was thought best to remove her to the hospital for treatment. She was 66 years of age.

Surviving her are three children, Mrs. J. G. Darden, of this city; Mr. E. R. McGowan, of Rocky Mount, and Mr. J. R. Lockamy, of this city, and two sisters, Mrs. Miles Davis and Mrs. Robert Davis, both of Onslow county. They will have the sympathy of a host of friends in their bereavement.

The funeral will be held this afternoon at 3:30 o'clock from the residence of Mrs. J. G. Darden, No. 716 South Second street, and will be conducted by Dr. J. H. Foster.

NEW BRIDGE NOW ASSURED

A. C. L. and S. A. L. Railroads to Build New Structure Over the Tracks on Fourth Street—Before Council.

Definite assurance from the Atlantic Coast Line Railroad Company that a new concrete bridge will shortly be built jointly by the Coast Line and the Seaboard Air Line over the railroad tracks on Fourth street, near Hilton, was given at the regular weekly meeting of the City Council yesterday morning. The Coast Line is ready for the work to begin and as soon as the Seaboard Air Line says the word the construction of the bridge will commence.

Mayor Moore presided with all members in attendance except Councilman Chadwick, who was out of the city. In attendance also were City Attorney E. K. Bryan and Capt. Thos. D. Meares, city clerk and treasurer.

Passed on its second and final reading yesterday, the ordinance prohibiting roller skating on the streets, sidewalks and alleys of the city after 6 P. M., is now a law and the chief of police proposes to enforce the measure to a letter.

An oidiance permitting the installation of underground tanks for gasoline on certain streets of the city upon application to the City Council, was passed on its first reading. The ordinance provides that detailed information and specifications must be filed with the Council by the applicant and the board will pass upon each individual application. The tanks may have a capacity of not exceeding 280 gallons, which is the standard size of tanks, it was explained to the Council. Bond in the sum of $200 must be given by persons to whom this privilege is granted in order to indemnify the city in case of accident, or damage to the streets.

City Attorney Bryan reported that he had not drawn the ordinance providing for a franchise to the Tidewater Power Company to change its tracks on 17th street as he had been informed that the company intended to withdraw the application and select a different route. The city ordinances will govern in any change that may be made in the racks.

On motion of Councilman Merritt the Southern National Bank was granted an extension of time—60 days—in which to begin the laying of a granolithic sidewalks on the Princess street side of its property at the southeast corner Front and Princess streets. A communication from Mr. Evans, who was president of the bank at the time it was merged with the Murchison, asked for an extension of time on the ground that the directors were about to effect a sale to incur any more and did not want to incur any more expense than absolutely necessary in settling up the affairs of the institution. If the property is sold within 60 days the new owners will be required to pave the sidewalk and if not disposed of in that time then the present owners will have to make the improvement.

Fourth Street Bridge.

In reply to a demand made by the Council on the Atlantic Coast Line and the Seaboard Air Line railroads to construct a concrete or steel bridge over the present tracks of the Seaboard Air Line on Fourth street, a communication was received from Geo. B. Elliott, Esq., assistant general counsel of the A. C. L., in which he stated that under the agreement entered into between the two roads recently, settling their differences with regard to certain property and track rights in the northern part of the city, that "it was agreed that the two companies would jointly, and at their equal expense, cause a re-inforced concrete bridge to be erected over their tracks at the Fourth street crossing."

"Under the terms of the contract," the communication continues, "the Seaboard Air Line agreed to do the work and this company agreed to pay one-half of the cost of construction and one-half of the cost of maintenance." The Atlantic Coast Line was ready on September 22nd to carry out its part of the agreement, the communication states, and notice to this effect was given to the Seaboard. The Coast Line also advised the Seaboard that "the construction of the bridge was necessary, not only from the viewpoint of the public, but to the end that this company might be free to enjoy certain easements granted it by the Seaboard Air Line under the contract referred to."

Councilman Merritt moved that a copy of the letter from Mr. Elliott be sent to the Seaboard Air Line with the request that work on the bridge be commenced at once. Similar notice as to the beginning of the work will be given the Atlantic Coast Line. The bridge that is to be built will replace a wooden structure that now spans the tracks of the Seaboard at that point. The new bridge will be wider as well as stronger as the Atlantic Coast Line will have one or two tracks under it in addition to the tracks of the Seaboard.

Several bids had been received by the Water and Sewerage Department for the construction of a water main on 15th street to provide water for Winoca Terrace and upon recommendation of Councilman Wood the contract was awarded to Farmer & Simon, the lowest bidders, at $398.25.

City Clerk and Treasurer Meares stated that he had not received from the County Board of Health a reply to a communication written by him as per instructions of the Council at the last meeting, asking for a detailed statement of moneys received and expended on account of scavenging work during the months of June, July and August. He also reported that the Board of Health had not made reply to another communication enclosing for the consideration of that body the recommendations of Councilman Loughlin relative to the plumbing being installed in the city. On motion of Councilman Merritt the clerk was instructed to write the Board of Health and ask why these communications had not been replied to. Councilman Loughlin alone voted against the motion on the ground that the Board of Health had not had a meeting since the communications were written and therefore had not had an opportunity to reply.

A communication was received by Mr. W. A. Williams, clerk of the Board of County Commissioners, dated October 7th, and reading as follows: "At a meeting of the Board of County Commissioners held yesterday a motion was carried that in view of the changes in the proportion of the amounts to be contributed by the city and the county to the County Board of Health, that a committee be appointed to confer with a committee from the City Council to take into consideration the amounts contributed by each for charitable purposes. Please notify me when such committee is appointed." On motion of Councilman Merritt the communication was ordered placed on file.

Complaint was made by Councilman Wood that messenger boys, principally those employed by the Western Union Telegraph Company, congregate on the sidewalk in front of the office and make themselves generally objectionable. He said that several tenants in the vicinity of the office had complained to him. He thought some law should be passed keeping the boys inside the building in which they are employed when not on duty. City Attorney Bryan stated that there is already ample statute to cover the situation and Councilman Jones, in charge of the Department of Public Safety, will see that the law is enforced with regard to congregating on the streets. Councilman Wood said that the Postal messenger boys do not give so much trouble, since complaint had been made direct to the management.

Councilman Jones was asked to have enforced to the letter the ordinance prohibiting the throwing of circulars and other advertising matter in the yards of people of the city. Councilman Merritt said that frequent complaint had been made that the ordinance is not being enforced.

Inquiry was made by Councilman Jones as to the construction of the retaining wall on Hanover street, in the northern part of the city, at a cost of over $1,000, when no provision for it is made in the budget for the street department. It was explained by Mayor Moore that the wall was authorized by the last administration and that the cost is not to be taken out of this year's appropriation for the street department.

Councilman Loughlin, in charge of the Department of Public Affairs, stated that in view of the fact that the market at Fifth and Castle streets could not be rented for a definite period on account of the plans for a new structure, he had given to the Cape Fear Independent Band permission to use the hall on the second floor free of charge until the building is removed in the next two or three months.

Report was made by Councilman Merritt that the superintendent of streets had reported to him that the Tidewater Power Company and others are making excavations in the streets without furnishing any record to the superintendent of streets so that he can see that the streets are put back in good condition. Mayor Moore said that the Tidewater Power Co., is under bond to put the streets back in good condition and that a record of the excavations are kept in the office of the city engineer, where the information desired by the superintendent of streets could be obtained any time. Mr. McAlister stated that quite a number of these excavations are being made by the Water and Sewerage Department.

Councilman Wood said that he failed to see the persons he intended to see on his trip to Richmond last week and therefore did not have anything to bring up with regard to the deep well proposition.

In session for exactly 55 minutes, council adjourned at 10:55 A. M.

THE NEW TRAIN ON SEABOARD

Traffic Committee of Chamber of Commerce Receives Important Announcement from Vice President Capps.

Quietly at work on the proposition for the past several months, the Traffic Committee of the Chamber of Commerce, through its chairman, Mr. J. A. Taylor, was able officially to announce last night that, effective November 1st, an additional passenger train on the Seaboard Air Line will be put on between Wilmington and Hamlet, other improvements to follow as soon as the new through schedule alignments can be made.

The information came to Mr. Taylor through Mr. J. Gilchrist McCormick, his co-laborer on the committee, who is in Norfolk on this and other business. It will be recalled that in making the annual report of his committee to the Chamber of Commerce at the annual meeting last April, Mr. Taylor stated that the committee was at work on certain railroad matters of which he was not then at liberty to speak, but results were certain. At that time Vice President Capps assured Mr. Taylor and Mr. McCormick of his entire willingness to grant the extra service, but at that time his company was short of rolling stock. Mr. Capps was here about six weeks ago and definitely fixed with Mr. Taylor the date of November 1st as the time for the new service to become effective, but the Seaboard official still enjoined confidentiallity with respect to the new service. Meantime the newspaper way and agitation for the new train went on, the committee merely "sitting steady in the boat" and "sawing wood." Mr. McCormick upon his visit to Norfolk this week secured liberty to make the announcement of the inauguration of the service and he wired Chairman Taylor to this effect last night.

The new train, which will be purely local, will go on about the time the new through train schedules are being made up and contingent upon these will depend the schedule and accommodations on the local train. It is planned to have the train leave Hamlet about 6 A. M., and reach here about 10 A. M. It will return, leaving Wilmington about 6 P. M., reaching Hamlet about 10 P. M. Mr. Capps has stated that he hopes to work in connection with this train some new alignments as to through travel that will be decidedly advantageous to Wilmington. The train arriving here about midday will likely be changed somewhat in order to secure faster time and to connect at Hamlet with outbound trains. It is likely that arrangements will be made for attaching a sleeper to the train leaving at 6 P. M., by which travel on the Wilmington-Hamlet link will be able to be accommodated to Raleigh, arriving there about 2 A. M., with privilege of remaining aboard until morning. Returning the same sleeper will be open in Raleigh at 10 P. M., for travel this way, connecting at Hamlet with the train leaving there at 6 A. M., and reaching Wilmington at 10 A. M.

This definite announcement of affording Wilmington greater conveniences in travel from Wilmington is in line with the Seaboard's policy of catering to Wilmington business, a district freight and passenger office having recently been established here—a project which the Traffic Committee had assiduously worked upon for some time.

The new service and especially the addition of the Pullman will give people of this section the opportunity to visit most any part of the State and return practically the same day. This service is given by the Atlantic Coast Line on its trains 90 and 91 out of Wilmington at 3:40 A. M., and returning to the city at 1 A. M., but for some reason the Coast Line has never felt it worth while to add a Pullman to this train.

The Traffic Committee of the Chamber of Commerce is to be congratulated upon this successful culmination of its efforts towards a decided public service not only for Wilmington, but for all the territory between Wilmington and Hamlet.

PROPOSE NEW LINE STEAMERS

Capt. M. L. Gilbert Representing Morse Securities Co., of New York, In City—Meeting of Shippers Yesterday.

Wilmington will have a new line of freight steamers from New York within the next few weeks if the present plans now under way are successful. Capt. M. L. Gilbert, representing the Morse Securities Co., of New York, is in the city, and at a largely attended meeting of shippers yesterday afternoon in the rooms of the Chamber of Comerce his proposition was discussed. A committee was appointed to look into it more thoroughly, and a large number subscribed stock to the enterprise, conditioned upon the investigation proving to be satisfactory.

The matter was first taken up several weeks ago with Mr. C. W. Morse, the well known financier, by Mr. G. T. Flynn, of this city, while he was in New York on business. Mr. Morse is having several freight steamers built and he seemed favorably impressed with the idea provided the merchants and shippers of Wilmington would support such a line. In order that there might be some assurance that they would do this he thought that they should subscribe a limited amount of stock to the enterprise. As a result of Mr. Flynn's conversation and correspondence with several Wilmington business men Mr. Morse sent Capt. Gilbert to make an investigation.

Mr. J. Allan Taylor at the meeting yesterday gave a short resume of what had been done so far by Mr. Flynn and others, and heartily endorsed the idea of securing a new steamship line. He thought it was an apportune time to secure such a line as he felt that Wilmington needed it and provided the method of financing it proved entirely satisfactory that Wilmington business men should take the $25,000 of stock which they are asked to subscribe.

Capt. Gilbert explained the proposition in detail stating that the Morse Securities Co. was a holding corporation with a capital of $10,000,000 in common stock and $5,000,000 in 6 per cent. bonds. This company owns a controlling interest in the Hudson Navigation Company which owns 42 ships, tugs and barges on the Hudson river. The Hudson company also owns pier No. 32 in New York City on the North river.

The Morse Securities Company is now building three freight steamers which will be completed within the next few weeks. It was the original intention to put these on between New York, Charleston and Jacksonville. The cost of the steamers will be about $125,000 each. They will have a capacity of about 3,500 tons each.

The proposition as submitted by Capt. Gilbert to the Wilmington shippers is to have a freight steamer a week from this port to New York provided $25,000 of the gold bonds are taken to show that the Wilmington business men will give the line its support. He believed that there is sufficient business coming through this port to make such a line pay.

The bonds are issued in $100, $500 and $1,000 denominations. With each bond which is sold at par value an equal amount of the common stock of the Morse Securities Company is given. While the common stock is not worth anything at the present time he believed that it would prove to be of value later. He offered to guarantee that if the stock was subscribed that the steamers would be put on and that this would be made a regular port of entry.

All the shippers present seemed to be favorably impressed with the proposition. Several thousand dollars in stock was subscribed yesterday with the understanding that a committee will look into the matter in detail, and should it not prove to be feasible that their subscription will be void. Capt. Gilbert was prefectly willing to make this agreement as he said that the company was a bona fide one in every respect. The committee appointed to confer with Capt. Gilbert is as follows: Messrs. W. E. Perdew, J. B. Rice and John S. McEachern.

Capt. Gilbert is in the city today, and will return to New York tonight.

KNIGHTS OF COLUMBUS.

Annual election of officers Held at Meeting Last Night.

LAUNCH MADE RECORD RUN.

Dart the 11th Came from Southport to Wilmington in 70 Minutes.

Capt. L. D. Potter made a record run from Southport to Wilmington Monday in the launch Dart 11th, making the trip in one hour and 10 minutes, which so far as is known is the fastest time ever made on the river for that distance. The Dart is a new launch which Capt. Potter had shipped from New York three weeks ago. She is built of mahogany, 25 feet long, five foot beam and 35 horse power engine. She is capable of making a speed of 22 knots per hour, and is one of the finest and most durable launches ever placed on the river.

Restraining Order Granted.

A copy of an order was received here yesterday from Southport and served on the defendants in this city through the sheriff's office, in a case entitled Bessie M. Robbins against the American National Bank and Geo. O. Gaylord. The order restrains the defendants from foreclosure of a mortgage on property in Brunswick county given by Preston B. Robbins and the plaintiff December 3rd, to K. C. Sidbury, Esq., and assigned to the American National Bank, of this city. Judge Rountree signed the order at Southport and it is made returnable before him at chambers in this city October 21st.

THE PLUMBING ORDINANCE

Journeymen of the City Cite Instances of Defective Work in the City—Their Side of Controversy for Consideration.

Having recently given a column and a half space to the "other side," The Star by request this morning publishes the following communication addressed to the Board of Health by the journeyman plumbers of this city, so far as this paper is concerned, closing a controversy of which the public is already tired and which just now is demanding more space than the world's series or the war in Merico. The communication is as follows:

Wilmington, N. C., Sept. 30, 1913.

To the Board of Health of the County of New Hanover, Wilmington, N. C.

Gentlemen: The undersigned plumbers of the city of Wilmington, who are actively engaged in the business, present this petition to the consideration of the board, and would respectfully show:

1st. As citizens, we advocate the strictest regulations of all plumbing. We have no objection to the existing regulations. If our opinion were asked, there are additional provisions we would suggest looking to the perfection of the regulations, rather than lessening their stringency.

2nd. As plumbers, we are willing to conform to the regulations and cooperate with the authorities in their proper enforcement; but we protest against the present lax enforcement which operates to the disadvantage of the man who is doing efficient work.

3rd. The regulations are not now observed by the inspector. The ordinance (Section 389) provides that the "Inspector shall be a person skilled in experience in the operation and construction of sanitary sewers, plumbing and house drainage." The present inspector is experienced in neither particular. As a man, we have no criticism to make of him. He is agreeable and polite, and if we wished to do improper plumbing, we would want no easier supervision than that which he gives; but as a plumbing inspector, his knowledge and ability amounts to practically nothing. We think we are entitled, and the public is entitled, to an inspector who knows good work from bad work. The trouble with the present inspector is that he does not know enough about practical plumbing not to approve good, bad and indifferent work alike. We are prepared to show this to the board. However valuable he may be to the health department in other particulars, he should not be assigned to the inspection of plumbing work.

4th. The ordinance requires (Section 391) that:

"Every person, firm or corporation desiring to engage in or work at the business of plumbing in the city of Wilmington, either as a master, employing journeyman plumber, shall be required to submit to an examination conducted by an examining board to be composed of one member of the Board of Health of the city, one master plumber who has served a regular apprenticeship in the plumbing trade and worked as a journeyman plumber (said master plumber to be selected by the said Board of Health), and the plumbing inspector of the city of Wilmington, as to the applicant's qualifications as a plumber and his familiarity with the plumbing regulations of the city of Wilmington."

This required examination of the plumbers has not been had. There are so-called plumbers now engaged in the work that could not stand any examination properly had. This not only results in bad plumbing work, but it affects the competent man, who expects to do his work well, by putting him in competition with a man who does not do it well. We have repeatedly asked that these examinations be had, but some of us have been told by the superintendent of health that he deferred these examinations in order to let some men coming on obtain sufficient experience to be able to stand an examination.

It seems to us that the department of health is derelict in its duty in not enforcing this provision of the ordinance, which is most important to secure competent plumbers and efficient plumbing.

5th. There are other provisions of the ordinances as to plumbing, which are not observed, and are not required to be observed by the inspector, which we are prepared to show at any hearing that will be afforded us. He may intentionally fail to require the rules to be enforced. We believe he is not sufficiently advised as to proper plumbing to know whether the rules are observed or not. For instance, the requirements of Section 412 have not been enforced, which section reads as follows:

"All lead bends and taps shall correspond in weight with lead pipe of same diameter. All connections of lead with iron pipe must be made with heavy brass ferrules of the same size as the lead pipe and caulked in with lead, the lead pipe being attached to the ferrule in all cases with a wiped joint."

6th. As instance of a want of proper installments of plumbing, and a want of proper inspection, we cite to you, among others, which can be shown, the following places:

At No. 522 South Front street. There is no vent to the bath tub or sink, as required by the ordinances.

At No. 512 North Seventh street. There is no vent to sink, as required.

At No. 907 South Front street. There is a one-inch vent pipe from bath tub. This should be 1 1-4 inches as required. Again, this vent stops on the eaves of the house, whereas, it should have gone 18 inches above, as required by the ordinance.

At No. 1004 North Fourth street. There is no clean-out plug at the end of the line as required by the ordinance. This work was done, we are informed, by one of the health officers.

At Strauss Building on Second, between Princess and Market streets. There are two closets with two-inch vents within 15 feet of the building and open windows. There is a restaurant and Warren's ice cream establishment on the first floor. People live on the second floor.

At Fourth and Harnett streets. Store: the bath tub not properly backvented.

At Nos. 608 and 612 Red Cross street. There is a two-inch vent to closet. It should be a four-inch stack pipe.

At Nos. 614 and 616 Church street. There terra cotta sewer pipe runs within five feet of the house, contrary to the regulations.

At Nos. 607, 609, 611 and 613 South Fourth street. There are no vents to sinks as required by the ordinances.

At No. 302 MacRae street. There is no clean-cut plug at the end of the line as required by the ordinance.

At No. 506 North Seventh street. There is no vent to sink.

At No. 508 South Seventh street. There is no vent to tub, sink or lavatory. The cast-iron pipe ends underneath the house; it should run five feet away from the house as required.

At Winoca Terrace, 15th and Princess streets. There are three or four houses recently built that have no vents to sinks.

At the City Hall. On the ground floor, between the room formerly occupied by the Board of Health and the police headquarters, there are closets and urinals with a two-inch vent, leading from the sewers, the end of which ends in the room itself. The vent pipe is not even carried outside of the building. The sewer gas has a free outlet into the room.

7th. We place this remonstance and protest upon the ground primarily that the public health should be subserved by the most efficient regulations and the most competent inspection. We insist that the public, as well as ourselves, are entitled to have a man acting as inspector of plumbing who is experienced and competent, and who knows good work from bad work, in all of its details. The effect of lax inspection means that it brings about, aside from injury to the public health, an unfair competition between men who do not work well and men who take work, but do it not in compliance with the law, and then get it passed upon.

8th. Neither of the undersigned are master plumbers. We know, however, that one master plumber in this town is doing expert plumbing work, not with experienced plumbers, but with helpers and novices. They have passed no examination. If the other master plumbers are called upon, they will bear witness to the fact that this particular man gets his worked passed upon, whether good, bad or indifferent, while other master plumbers are not permitted to do things which this particular plumber is permitted to do; consequently, in bidding for work, he is able to underbid, since he uses helpers at lower wages.

9th. It has been said to us when we have complained of this condition that this is a fight of the union plumber against the non-union men. It is not true. The union has nothing to do with this remonstance. It is a requirement of the union that before any man can become a member of the order, he must stand an examination by practical plumbers as to his efficiency. Every one of us have stood that examination, and yet we are in competition today, in a measure, with men who have stood no such examination and who are permitted by your superintendent of health to do work as plumbers, in violataion of the ordinance which prohibited them so doing until they have passed an examination before a board of examiners. We insist the examination should be held as the ordinance requires, and the omission to do so is the fault of your superintendent of health.

10th. We, therefore, request that your Board of Health will give us a day when we will appear in person and testify to the facts which are here stated, and give your board evidence of the incompetency of your present inspector, and of the non-enforcement by your health department of the requirements of the plumbing ordinances, and we think that it is the duty of the Board of Health, when satisfactory proof of these facts are presented to them, to assign some practical man as inspector of plumbing for work done in the city. We doubt very much whether Mr. Mathers himself, whatever his qualifications as a draftsman or engineer may be, would pretend to have had any experience or skill in plumbing work, previous to his assignment by the superintendent of health as inspector of plumbing.

We would be pleased to have you set a day for our appearance before you. Respectfully submitted,

W. B. Daniels, W. H. McCartney, D. B. Stafford, O. W. Genaust, K. W. Jewell, H. G. Whitney, C. D. Orrell, W. L. Barnes, E. A. Brewer, L. A. Waters, O. K. Beasley, W. B. Drynan, C. C. Davis.

Grows Out of Sale of Stock.

Arising from the sale by the plaintiff to one of the defendants of stock held by him in the Carolina Coast Products Company, suit was instituted in Superior Court here yesterday afternoon by Iredell Meares, Esq., against T. A. Darby, a citizen of Florida; J. F. Bussells, of Southport, and the Carolina Coast Products Company. Simultaneously with the institution of the suit there was filed an order, signed by Judge C. C. Lyon, at chambers in Lumberton, Tuesday, enjoining the defendants from disposing of the stock sold to Mr. Darby by the plaintiff and afterwards transferred to Mr. Bussells, and directing that it be placed in the hands of the Clerk of Superior Court until October 20th, the date for the hearing on the injunction before Judge Rountree. The amount of the stock is $3,000. A. G. Ricaud and Herbert McClammy, Esqs., appear for the plaintiff.

MISS BELLA GRANT BRIDE OF MR. HENRY F. JONES

At the home of Mr. J. E. Shannon, No. 312 North Third street, at 4:30 o'clock yesterday afternoon, Miss Bella C. Grant, a native of Aberdeen, Scotland, but for the past two years a resident of this city, and Mr. Henry F. Jones, formely of Kinston, N. C., but now of this city, were the principals in a pretty wedding ceremony, performed in impressive manner by Rev. J. D. Bundy, pastor of Grace Methodist church. Miss Frances Shannon was maid of honor and Mr. "Jack" Bellamy was best man. There were present only a few close friends of the bride and groom. The parlor was very prettily decorated for the happy event and following the ceremony the bridal party was entertained at supper by Mrs. Shannon. Mr. and Mrs. Jones left on the evening train for Kinston and will go from there to Washington and other points North on their honeymoon. After November 1st they will be at home to their friends at No. 417 North Fourth street. The groom holds a position in the general offices of the Coast Line and has lived here for the past three or four years and is very popular with many friends. His bride is a graduate nurse of the St. Leo's Training School, Greensboro, and has lived in this city since her graduation about two years ago and has many friends here.

PRETTY HOME WEDDING CELEBRATED LAST NIGHT

A pretty home wedding was celebrated last evening at 6 o'clock at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. William A. Rourk, No. 510 South Front street, when their daughter Miss Zillah Rourk, was given in marriage to Mr. Henry Birdsong Sedberry, the officiating minister being Rev. Dr. J. H. Foster, pastor of the First Baptist church.

As Mrs. R. B. Clark, a sister of the bride, skillfully rendered the Bridal Chorus from Lohengrin the bride and groom entered the reception room preceeded by the ring bearer and flower girl, little Miss Victoria Rourk, a sister of the bride, and Miss Annie Louise Townsend, a niece of the groom. Here the vows were said after which they received the felicitations of a large number of friends who were present to witness the ceremony.

The bride wore a blue traveling suit with hat and gloves to match, and carried a shower bouquet of Bride roses. The reception room was prettily decorated with palms, ferns and roses. In the library were displayed many beautiful presents consisting of an assortment of silverware, cut glass and other articles.

Following the informal reception the bridal party went to the union station where the bride and groom left on the 6:45 train for Northern cities. They will be away on their honeymoon trip for ten days, and will visit Washington, Baltimore and New York. Upon their return they will be at home at No. 522 South Front street.

The bride is a popular young lady, and the groom is with the Southside Drug Company. They have many friends who will wish for them many years of happy married life.

The out-of-town guehts included Mrs. H. O. Sedbefry, mother of the groom, and granddaughter, Miss Annie Louise Townsend, of Fayetteville; Miss Annie Sedberry, a sister of the groom, of Fayetteville, and Mr. Harold Sedberry, of Rock Mount.

RECEPTION AT TARBORO FOR VISITING U. D. C.

Tarboro, N. C., October 8.—One of the prettiest receptions ever given in this city took place last night at the beautiful home of Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Hart, on Main street, when they received for the visiting Daughters of the Confederacy here for the State Convention, and their hosts and hostesses in town as well as the members of the local chapter, D. D. C., and a large number of outside people.

It is estimated that fully 400 people attended the reception and enjoyed the delightful hospitality of these charming people.

For the occasion the house was artistically decorated in red and white, the color scheme being carried out in the flowers and in the refreshments that were daintily served by the members of the Dixie Lee Chapter, U. D. C., and each guest was given a souvenir silk Confederate flag.

The guests were received at the dcor by Mesdames John L. Bridgers and John R. Pender, and taken to the receiving line, composed of Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Hart and Mesdames William Dorsey Pender, of Norfolk; Josephus Daniels, of Washington, D. C.; Marshall Williams, of Faison; Leo D. Heartt, of Raleigh; T. W. Thrash, Miss Winnifred Faison, of Faison; Miss Margaret Etheridge, of Selma; Mrs. R. H. Davis, of Louisburg; Mrs. W. M. Creasy, of Wilmington; Miss Carrie Leazer, of Mooresville; Mrs. Gordon Finger, of Charlotte; Mrs. E. C. Moffitt, Mrs. Mary Speed, of Mercer; Mrs. F. M. Williams, Mrs. I. W. Faison, Charlotte; Miss Lida Rodman, of Washington; Mrs. H. A. London, of Pittsboro, and Mrs. Wather. These ladies being the executive committee, the general division officers and the honor guests of the convention.

In the morning room of the home a delicious punch was served by two of Mrs. Hart's house guests, Mrs. Tom Craig, of Gastonia, and Miss Dixie Leach, of Raleigh. And in the rear hall, as the guests left the dining room they were served demitasse and cheese by two more house guests, Mesdames McCuller and Hocutt, of Clayton. At the dining room door the guests were met by Mesdames Edward Whitehead, of Enfield, and Frank Powell and Perry Jenkins, of this city. Misses Sophie Hart and Blanche Williams were at the library door and Miss Alice Thurston Pender, chief page, and Miss Lize Pender were in the rear hall.

The guests came from about 9 o'clock until 12 and throughout the evening everyone who attended thoroughly enjoyed the affair. Every possible thing that could have been thought of for the comfort of their guests had been arranged by Mr. and Mrs. Hart and they were the recipients of many congratulations on the success of the evening. This reception formally opened the social events of the week that have been planned for the delegates and aside from the business that will be transacted, a number of other delightful affairs have been arranged for the visiting ladies.

NEGRO MURDERER CONFESSES

Thos. Dupree Admits Shooting George Dixon at Pocomoke Plant, But Did Not Intend to Kill— Now In Jail.

Thomas Dupree, the negro who shot and killed George Dixon, also colored, at the Pomocoke guano factory Saturday night and who was arrested in Sanford early Tuesday morning, was brought to Wilmington last night by Sheriff Cowan and Deputy Sheriff Kelly and is now in jail to await trial at the November term of court. He is said to have admitted to the officers that he shot Dixon, but claims that he did not intend to kill him.

Mr. J. L. Turner, a member of the Sanford police force, who effected the capture of Dupree, accompanied the Wilmington officers to the city last night to collect the reward of $150 which had been offered for the arrest of the negro. Mr. S. L. Boyd, manager of the Pocomoke plant, offered $50 reward, Mr. C. M. Harley, also of the factory, $50, and the remaining $50 was offered by the Commissioners of this county. Mr. Boyd was at the train last night when the prisoner was brought in and stated that he was ready to pay over the personal reward to any one designated by Sheriff Cowan as the captor of the criminal. Settlement with the Sanford officer will likely be made this morning. It was stated last night that there was talk that a crew on a freight train might enter a claim for a portion of the reward on the ground that they had pointed Dupree out to the officer. It is said that the officer denies that he was given any assistance by the members of the train crew. Dupree, the officer is quoted as saying, was first arrested on complaint of a colored woman who had noticed him loitering around the freight yards at Sanford. After some questing it was ascertained that he was the negro wanted here for murder.

The negro told the officers that he walked most of the way from Pocomoke to Currie, where he caught a freight train to Fayetteville, walking from that place to Manchester, 25 miles away, and then catching a train for Sanford.

Dupree's story of the incidents leading up to the killing tally with that given before the coroner's jury by Willie Dicksey, a 15-year-old negro boy, who was an eye-witness to the shooting. Admissions of Dupree are said to have tended strongly to substantiate the belief of the officers that Will Beery and Hattie Bluefield, who are held for perjury and possibly as accessories to the crime, and Dupree had planned to rob George Dixon of what money he had. They had been playing cards in the house where the shooting occurred. "Tiger" Bluefield, a brother of Hattie Bluefield, is in jail held as a witness in the case. Willie Dicksey is in jail also, being placed there for protection as it was feared that some friends of Dupree and others connected with the affair might try to do him bodily harm.

..Theatrical..

One of the most notable events of the present theatrical season—perhaps the event from a strictly dramatic standpoint—will roll around for Wilmington next Monday night, when the distinguished actress, Miss Annie Russell, and a star company will appear in a big scenic revival of "She Stoops to Conquer."

In this attraction Wilmington theatre-goers will indeed be offered a rare treat, and the Virginia papers highly praise the players and play, the Norfolk Virginian-Pilot advising people to be certain to witness the perfromance.

One of the notable engagements, artistically and socially, of the New York season was Miss Annie Russell's interesting experience at the 39th Street theatre, where last season she offered metropolitan playgoers (and many who once had the playgoing habit) a series of performances of the old English classical comedies. Her little organization has been called Annie Russell's Old English Comedy Company, and, under distinguished social patronage, played an extensive season at the comfortable little theatre on 39th street. The experiment proved so successful that the enterprise has been made permanent, and this season the organization will be enlarged and the scope of activity widened. Beginning with a Southern tour, taking with her the original New York company, Miss Russell plans a season full of activity. She returns to New York after the holidays, to appear again in repertoire.

Miss Annie Russell heads a cast which was selected for the individual training the players have had in the school of old comedy. The productions which reflect Miss Russell's tastes are said to aim at simplicity and quiet elegance and an artistic expression of the period. Besides Miss Russell, the company includes Oswald Yorke, F. Percival Stevens, Fred Permain, Efolliott Paget, Littledale Power, Henrietta Goodwin and 20 others.

Seats will go on sale at J. Hicks Bunting's drug store Saturday morning.

Star Bill at Bijou.

The great special three-reel release Warner feature, "The Raiders of the Mexican Border," which the popular Bijou had billed for yesterday, "missed connection" in transit, so that it did not arrive in time for presentation. Under the circumstances this was well, because the weather would have kept many away who desired to witness the big and costly feature. They and all others are advised, however, that the Bijou will present the great star feature tomorrow. But even though the Warner feature was missing yesterday, the Bijou offered a superb bill (the Warner feature is always an extra number) and greatly delighted the big audiences, which knew they would find brightness at the Bijou regardless of the dismal weather.

Today the Bijou has another great show on tapis, and besides this swell programme it will offer a great retreat of solid comfort to both cheer and amuse on a drear day. It will also offer Kalem's special three-reel release, "The Invaders," which is the very latest and the most elaborate production the Kalem company has ever made. It's a thrilling Western story with a punch and that requires an army of people in the presentation. Among the other big films today is Lubin's "The Tenderfoot Hero" which is a daisy and will be highly enjoyed.

Longfellow Feature Film.

Longfellow's beautiful, heart-touching poem, "The Blind Girl of Castle Guille," will appear before the eyes of Grand devotees today in moving pictures, in the greatest Pathe play ever manufactured. A notable cast will appear in the film and it will probably be the most artistic piece of work in moving pictures Wilmington has ever known. But this great photoplay will not be all of today's stars at the cozy, handsome Grand—just the place of solid comfort during inclement weather—because there will be three other big films, including Selig's "The Stolen Face", which is a novel dramatic story revolving around a beautiful cabinet of carved teak, inlaid with ebony, ivory and gold, and used as ormolu. It is a fascinating theme vividly depicted in moving pictures. "Edwin's Badge of Honor", is another powerful dramatic on today, with the scenes laid in a penitentiary and the leading actors convicts.

A rattling comedy film is also a star in the Biograph's "Among Club Fellows," in which a great flirt, who thinks himself a heartbreaker, gets it in the neck. All for the small price of admission, 5 cents, afternoon and night.

DAY OF ATONEMENT.

Services Will be Held Here Tomorrow Night and Saturday Morning.

The Day of Atonement, the holiest day in the Hebrew calendar, falls this year on Saturday, the 11th of October. Its Biblical designation is Yom ha-Kip-purim, which was later shortened to Yom Kippur. According to tradition, it is one of the cycle of holidays instituted by Moses, which is mentioned in Leviticus. Its ceremonial is described in the xvi chapter of Leviticus and its sacrifices in the xxix chapter of Numbers.

The Day of Atonement, however, is not dependent upon the sacrificial service prescribed in the Bible. After the destruction of the Temple, in the year 70, when sacrifices were abolished, this holy day survived, and of all the holy days observed by the Jews it has most completely held its own in the hearts and minds of the Jews. It is a day of fasting, and emphasis is laid upon confession, penitence, prayer and good deeds. It is known as the Sabbath of Sabbaths, when everyone is at peace with the world.

Services in the Temple of Israel will be conducted tomorrow evening at 6 o'clock, by the rabbi, Rev. Dr. S. Mendelsohn.

Beginning Saturday morning at 11 o'clock, there will again be services in the synagogue, which will continue through the remainder of the day.

Barrel Exploded Hurting Negro.

John McGee, colored, was painfully hurt about the fact by the explosion of a barrel yesterday afternoon at Karonchi's confectionery store on South Front stree. The barrel was used for holding Coca-Cola, and McGee was attempting to make a hole thfough the head with a hot fron. When the heated iron went through gas in the barrel was ignited which caused the barrel to explode. It made a terrific noise, and many thought that there had been a dynamite explosion.

Another Pool Exhibition.

Mr. J. T. Malone, the former world's champion pocket pool champion, has remained in the city for a day or two and tonight at the Struther's Cigar Company will give an exhibition to which the public is cordially invited. Mr. Malone will play both Mr. R. J. Sneed and S. L. Schulken, local experts, and the game promises to be quite interesting.

STORM DIDN'T MATERIALIZE

Much Apprehension Here Yesterday on Account of Threatening Weather—Heaviest Rainfall in Two Years.

Much apprehension was felt here yesterday on account of a hurricane reported raging in Charleston and which the weather man said would move northwest, and would probably reach Wilmington some time yesterday afternoon. On account of the extremely high tide at Wrightsville Beach Tuesday afternoon, it was feared that the tide and wind yesterday afternoon would do much damage, and it was thought advisable to have the few people remaining on the beach come up to the city.

Many reports were circulated, among these being one to the effect that the trestle over the sound at Wrightsville was washed away and also a number of cottages. Yesterday afternoon it was rumored that the Seashore Hotel pier had gone down. However, all these reports proved to be unfounded, and there was no damage of consequence done at the beach by the extremely high tides.

The weather man said that the wind was blowing at Charleston at the rate of 34 miles an hour which he considered a pretty stiff breeze. By the time it had passed from eight to ten persons the reported speed had increased to 80 miles an hour, and the fear that a wind of this kind would strike Wilmington some time yesterday afternoon caused much anxiety with many.

While no wind to amount to anything materialized it did rain, or rather, poured. The rainfall was not continuous, but came in periodical showers. Enough fell from 2 o'clock Tuesday afternoon to 2 o'clock yesterday afternoon to bring the total rainfall up to 3.70 inches, which is the greatest fall of rain in 24 hours that Wilmington has had since August 4th, 1911, when 5.51 inches fell in 24 hours. That it was not the heaviest rainfall experienced here by a good deal can be seen from the records of the weather man, which show a rainfall in 24 hours of 8.04 inches on August 11th, 1879.

The rain was confined largely to the coast, and did not extend far into the interior. The rainfall for Lumberton for the same time that it was 3.70 inches in Wilmington, was .60 inches. Heavy rainfalls were reported in several of the smaller towns, but so far as was learned there was none that could show a record equal to Wilmington's. In none of the Southern cities was there a rainfall that was anywhere near Wilmington's record.

The rain did not cease yesterday afternoon but continued last night. While it will probably damage the cotton crop to some extent the fact that the heavy rains, so far as known here, were confined to a small territory in the immediate section of Wilmington, will not materially affect the crop that is now in the fields.

The tug Frank Perry, which left port last week with dredge Erin-go-Braugh in tow for New York, returned here yesterday because of the squally weather. The tug will return to Florida, leaving the dredge here until another tug from New York comes for it.

The following Associated Press telegram was received last night:

Charleston, S. C., Oct. 8.—According to a statement from the Weather Bureau early tonight the severe storm which was centered at Georgetown, S. C., this morning has gone inland between Charleston and Wilmington, N. C. Efforts to re-establish communication with Georgetown have failed. It is believed that the wind there approached hurricane velocity and that considerable damage resulted. Only slight effects of the storm were in evidence here.

Poisoned Blood Quickly Cleansed

In Any Form of Blood Trouble the Cure is Rapid.

An astonishing record of serious blood poisoning is daily brought to our attention. And most if not all these startling calamities could be averted were the blood primed, toned and purified in advance by that wonderful remedy known everywhere as S. S. S. Few people realize how quickly the system becomes infected with the acids and ferments from undigested food, constipation and inactive kidneys.

The symptoms are fever, thirst, excitability, dry skin followed by rash, and many indications wrongly diagnosed as Ptomaine poisoning. This condition is almost universal in all climates and is quickly overcome by the action of S. S. S.

The medicinal properties of S. S. S. are relatively just as esential to well balanced health as are the nutritive properties of the meats, grains, fats and sugars of our daily food. And if you will bear this fact in mind and get your blood under the dominating influence of S. S. S. you will not only drive out those impurities that cause Rheumatism, Catarrh, Eczema, Pimples, Boils and thin anemic blood, but you will feel afnew the thrill of health that can come only from a purified blood stream.

Do not accept anything else in place of S. S. S.; pay no attention to the "Just as Good" claims of those who would sacrifice your health to make an extra profit. S. S. S. contains no minerals, no crude drugs, nothing but the most beneficial botanical materials. So be sure and get S. S. S. and avoid disappointment. WOMAN ESCAPES OPERATION

By Timely Use of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Here is her own statement.

Cary, Maine.—"I feel it a duty I owe to all suffering women to tell what Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound did for me. One year ago I found myself a terrible sufferer. I had pains in both sides and such a soreness I could scarcely straighten up at times. My back ached, I had no appetite and was so nervous I could not sleep, then I would be so tired mornings that I could scarcely get around. It seemed almost impossible to move or do a bit of work and I thought I never would be any better until I submitted to an operation. I commenced taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and soon felt like a new woman. I had no pains, slept well, had good appetite and was fat and could do almost all my own work for a family of four. I shall always feel that I owe my good health to your medicine."—Mrs. HAYWARD SOWERS, Cary, Maine.

If you are ill do not drag along until an operation is necessary, but at once take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

If you have the slightest doubt that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound will help you, write to Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co. (confidential) Lynn, Mass., for advice. Your letter will be opened, read and answered by a woman, and held in strict confidence.

COTTON CLOSED TWO POINTS UP

Coverings by Early Sellers Helped an Afternoon Rally and the Market Closed Steady.

New York, Oct. 8.—The cotton market was nervous and irregular today, with local traders evidently disposed to take a bearish view of Southwestern conditions, and the spot situation, but aggressive selling was restricted by apprehensions of storm damage in the Eastern belt, and the appearance of trade buying on declines. Covering by early sellers helped an afternoon rally and the market closed steady, net 2 points to 4 points higher.

There seemed to be a good many overnight selling orders around the ring at the start, and the first prices were 3 to 8 points lower. Offerings were encouraged by easier Liverpool cables and better weather in the Southwest than expected, but reports of a storm off the South Atlantic coast caused considerable nervousness and prices soon rallied to about the closing figures of last night on covering. This bulge ran the market into increased offerings, however, and it soon weakened under active foreign, Southern and local selling. Some stop orders were uncovered on the decline, which carried prices off to 13.03 for January, or about 80 points below the high records of last week. This break of $4 a bale attracted a good deal of realizing by recent sellers, as well as some renewal of bull support and the market later ruled steadier on reports that the Atlantic storm had reached the coast and might cause damaging rains in the interior.

Active months worked from one to six points above the closing figures of last night during the afternoon, but selling continued active enough to cause further irregularity in the late trading, with the close 3 or 4 points off from the best. An Arkansas spot man was quoted as estimating the crop at 12,800,000 bales, including linters, but these figures seemed to attract comparatively little attention, and there was much talk around the ring, indicating somewhat increased views of the yield, as well as expectations of increased spot offerings.

Spot cotton quiet. Middling uplands, 13.90; do. gulf, 14.15; sales, 100.

Futures closed steady.

NO DANGER OF FAMINE.

Storm Swept Nome, Alaska, Will Live on Venison.

Nome, Alaska, Oct. 8.—With the subsidence of the waters that demolished half of Nome, the inhabitants are cleaning out and repairing their damaged buildings. The city is in darkness at night, the electric light plant having been destroyed.

There is no meat except the small supply that was in butcher shops not affected by the storm. The large plant of the Pacific Cold Storage Company is a total loss.

Among the marine losses are four power schooners and five tugs. Two large gold dredges also were lost.

Washington, Oct. 8.—Reports from Nome say there is no danger of famine there because of the recent tidal storm. Reindeer representing 750 tons of meat, are within driving distance of the stricken city.

TILLMAN'S "ALLEGORICAL COW."

After Eighteen Years' Absence Famous Cartoon Returns.

Washington, Oct. 8.—Senator Tillman's "allegorical cow" sketched 18 years ago to accompany an attack by the South Carolina Senator upon Wall Street and the "money power" illustrated the same article in today's congressional record.

One view shows the cow—an elongated animal symbolical of the National resources—feeding on the farms of the South and West, while her golden milk is being drawn in New York and New England. Then the cow is pictured turned around, but the Supreme Court is choking her as she attempts to feed on income taxes and the Western and Southern farmers are getting no milk.

Unanimous consent for inserting the article with illustrations in the Record was obtained by Senator Tillman, who said he made the request "because so much that was mere surmise and prophecy then has come true." He added that he rejoiced that the country no longer could be "bamboozled", and that under a Democratic administration legislation was being enacted which would prevent the robbery that had gone on in the past.

The appearance of the cartoon in the Record created a flurry at the Capitol. Nobody remembered when such a thing had happened before.

DRY GOODS MARKET.

New York, Oct. 8.—Cotton goods were easier in demand, but without price change for the day. Worsted yarns were barely steady. Underwear and hosiery continued in active demand for quick shipment.

STOCK MARKET BEARISH

Selling Was Aggressive With No Effective Resistance Offered—Union Pacific Pivotal Stock.

New York, Oct. 8.—Aggressive selling of stocks was resumed today, and no effective resistance was offered. The pivotal stock was Union Pacific, the acute weakness of which turned the whole market downward after a fairly steady opening.

Sentiment was decidedly bearish and the break in Union Pacific was all that was needed to concentrate speculative activity on the short side.

The market was nervous all morning, and before noon Union Pacific had been forced down approximately four points.

Reading, Amalgamated, Steel, Canadian Pacific and Lehigh Valley were 2 points lower, and among less active shares there were losses of 1 to 4 points. Pressure relaxed in the afternoon and speculation became quiet. Steel broke through 55, showing a loss of over 10 points from its top price of a fortnight ago. American Telephone securities again were heavy. The common fell to 123¾, the lowest since 1908, and a decline of 2¾ on the week. The particular weakness of Union Pacific could be traced to no specific development. It was generally ascribed to the belief that no announcement would be made in the immediate future regarding an extra cash distribution which had been predicted by many traders. The expected decrease in Copper stocks, amounting to over 8,500,000 pounds, was shown in the monthly statement. The report, however, was without effect on the market. Bonds were lower, with more liberal offerings of some industrial and convertible issues. Total sales, par value, $1,394,000. United States bonds were unchanged on call. Total stocks sales, 377,000, including American Tobacco, 1,000; C. and O., 1,300; L. V., 4,100; L. and N., 500; N. and W., 100; Reading, 45,100; Southern Railway, 600; do. pfd., 1,000 Union Pacific, 84,100; U. S. Steel, 83,300; V.-C. C., 500.

The New York Stock Exchange will be open Saturday. The governors so voted, denying a petition to stretch the Columbus Day holiday next Monday into three days, by closing Saturday.

their office, and declared that the opponents of the commission were not meeting the issue squarely. What was needed, he maintained, was a law to require all members to devote their time to the office and to give them the necessary help.

Mr. Doughton, of Alleghany, declared that these corporation commissioners, then under attack, had accomplished more than any other public officials in 25 years, that they dealt with the inter-State problem successfully when others failed, and he could see no reason for humiliating them.

Explaining his consistency all along the line in the fight for justice to the State, Mr. Weatherspoon made the point that a new commission would have to depend solely on a hired expert and that a rate expert for the present commission would be as effective.

He denied that there is a man in the State eligible for the position more in touch with the business interests than Chairman Travis.

The substitute of Mr. Allred provides for the employment of a rate expert and other help at a cost not exceeding $6,000 on approval of the Governor and also to employ special counsel at a cost not exceeding $1,000 a year. The question was called and the substitute adopted 78 to 37.

Aside from this the House declined to suspend the rules to enable Mr. Mull to present a bill to cut a road through State grounds at Morganton.

Day Sessions.

Raleigh, N. C., Oct. 8.—Devoting their energies to a discussion of the Woodard bill to create a Public Service Commission to take over the rate-making duties of the Corporation Commission, the members of the lower House of the North Carolina General Assembly adjourned at 2 o'clock this afternoon until 8 o'clock tonight without taking a vote. A motion by Mr. Reavis to table the bill was defeated by a substantial majority, many members of the body saying, however, that they voted against tabling, but would vote also against the bill.

The advocates of the bill pleaded its necessity if the shippers are to be given the relief they demand, but the opponents insisted that it amounted to an effort to discredit the work of the Corporation Commissioners.

The House immediately after convening corrected some errors in court acts and passed a bunch of local bills on final reading. The Woodard bill for a separate Public Service Commission came up as special order at noon.

Mr. Woodard Explains Bill.

Representative Woodard, who introduced the bill, explained it. He paid a tribute to the members of the Corporation Commission, past and present, and pointed to the notable Selma connection case as one of the greatest victories ever achieved. Franklin McNeill wrote the order that was sustained in every appeal to the Supreme Court of the United States. He disclaimed any attack on the present commission and based his hope for the passage of the new bill on the ground of the necessity. He cited the lumber cases, referred to at a committee hearing, as showing how overworked the Commission is.

Representative Plummer Stewart, of Mecklenburg, plunged into an attack on the bill in which he sought to show that there was not the slightest necessity for a new commission.

Too Many Jobs.

He declared that there are too many demands for new jobs now, and insisted that the creation of new offices was one of the reasons why the State is almost bankrupt. He said all the towns would want a member on the new commission and declared, amid laughter, that the whole plan of the universe would be changed if High Point did not get a member.

"Shall we accept the fruits of their labors with one hand," Mr. Stewart asked, "and cut them down with the other? I for one shall not be one of those to send the members of that commission home in humiliation without any cause."

Representative Dowd spoke briefly but vigorously in favor of the bill. He denied that the creation of the new commission would be a reflection on the Corporation Commission; declared that it was a matter of indifference to the people of Charlotte, whether that city has a member on the commission or not. He urged that if the new commission is needed, it would be a crime not to create it, and as showing that it was needed, he pointed to the duties the Corporation Commission would still have, among them the matter of taxes. Mr. Dowd did not know what effect the Justice Intra-State freight rate bill would have, but wanted a strong commission to take hold in case the Justice bill failed in its purpose.

H. A. Grimm, of Wake county, spoke for the bill and H. B. Miller, of Cleveland, vigorously assailed it as vicious, contrary to the trend of modern government and an injustice to the people who elected the commissioners, and unfair to the men whose services the House had so overwhelmingly accepted. No crimes have been charged against the commissioners except by insinuation, he exclaimed, and he wanted specifications. He said there was no assurance that the $30,000 commission proposed would do any better.

Mr. Austin, of Stanly, spoke against the bill and then Mr. Allred, of Johnston, offered an amendment to give the present commission all the powers under the new bill and $6,000 if needed for rate expert and clerical help. He denied that any body of men could select better officers than the people.

Mr. Kellum, of New Hanover, spoke for the bill, declaring that if given the chance the people would vote for its creation.

A motion to table was made by Mr. Reavis, Republican, of Yadkin, and the House voted 69 to 40 against it, numerous members saying they were against the bill, but were in favor of killing it in a manner not so violent. Mr. Graham began addressing the House in favor of the bill when adjournment was taken to 8 o'clock.

In the Senate—Morning.

Senator Bryant sent forward a bill to increase the number of the members on the Corporation Commission from three to five.

Bills passed final reading as follows: Authorize issue of school bonds by Tabor district, Columbus county; change the name of Toisnot to Elm City; make trustees of Sanford graded school district elective by vote; establish Vass graded school district, Moore county; amend the bond issue act of Newbern graded schools; authorize bond issue for Sanford graded schools; provide for municipal improvement in Goldsboro; authorize gas plant bonds by Wilson; amend the bond issue act for Clayton graded schools; change the boundaries of Sanford graded school district; revise the charter of Clinton; authorize a road bond election for Lee county; authorize the Chadbourn drainage district commissioners to acquire rights-of-way; authorize road bond election in Lee county.

Senator McLean called up a bill that was pending that provides among other things that a slice of about 5,000 acres be taken from Scotland county to add to the Maxton district in Robeson county. The bill had passed at the regular session, he explained, without any one seeming to know all its provisions and that some defect had prevented its going into effect. He and Senator Parsons both opposed the bill and Senator McLeod promised to get up an amendment that would eliminate the objectionable features. With this understanding the bill went over to another day.

The Senate set the Young resolution from the House for accepting the proposal of the inter-State carriers for settlement of inter-State rate differences for special order tonight.

Constitutional Amendments.

The Senate at 12:15 went into committee of the whole on Constitutional amendments. Section 6 was adopted without division, this fixes the date for terms of office of State officers and the inauguration of the Governor to be on the second Wednesday after the first Monday in January, this being to make the inauguration and terms of office agree under the Constitution.

Section 7, limiting the Superior Court judges from holding courts in the same county once in one year instead of once in four years, and adding a paragraph for grouping the Superior Court districts into not less than five divisions, and limiting the circuits of the respective judges to the circuit in which his district is, came up for long discussion. Senator Bellamy opposed any change.

Senator Ward argued that the present system of having each judge ride the whole State was a hardship that should not be imposed.

Senator Daniel insisted that there should be no change in the organic law in this respect. Many others spoke, when the vote was reached the proposal was voted down by a vote of 13 to 27.

The Senate took recess at 3:30 o'clock.

Senate—Wednesday Afternoon.

The Senate disposed of a great number of local bills, including the following: Provide good roads in Stump and White Oak townships, Onslow county; amend charter of Elon College; authorize bonds by Jacksonville and Swansboro Railroad Co.; repeal act giving Burgaw commissioners power to maintain a fence around the town and levy a tax therefor; appoint cotton weigher for Warsaw; declare the law and regulate the management of the Forsyth reformatory; change the name of Venable, Orange county, to Carroboro; amend the deer law in Brunswick county.

DAUGHTERS OF CONFEDERACY

her annual report today that the Mt. Olive Chapter will erect a memorial drinking fountain at Mt. Olive. Plans were laid for the erection of a monument on Gettysburg battlefield to tell the story of North Carolina's glory. Miss Carrie Leazer, of Mooresville, State Historian, announced that two facts had been fully established during the year which reflected glory upon North Carolina; that the last complete cabinet meeting of the United States of the Confederacy was held at Charlotte, and that the late Major Orren Randolph Smith, of Henderson, was the originator of the Stars and Bars as accepted by the Confederate government at the Montgomery, Ala., meeting.

The social features of the convention today included a luncheon by Mrs. Wm. Dorsey Pender, at the armory of the Edgecombe Guards; reception this afternoon at the Country Club, and a reception tonight at the home of Mrs. H. T. Bryan, given by the Miles Harvey Chapter, Daughters American Revolution. Virginia was represented today by Mrs. F. A. Walke, of Norfolk, custodian of Flags and Pennants, General Division, and Mrs. E. D. Moffett, of Richmond, honorary vice president, North Carolina Division.

REPRESENTATIVES ABSENT.

Impossible to Get Quorum on Urgent Deficiency Bill.

(Special Star Telegram.)

Washington, D. C., Oct. 8.—Representatives Page, Godwin and Stedman returned to Washington today to vote on the Urgent Deficiency bill. Representatives Doughton, Small, Gudger and Webb are still absent.

Sergeant-at-arms Gordon received a telegram from Mr. Webb saying that he was not well enough to travel but would return if it was found impossible to get a quorum without his presence. The House was again forced to adjourn without a quorum and the bill, carrying appropriations for examinations of fourth-class postmasters and providing that deputy marshals and collectors be appointed without taking civil service examinations, was forced to go over until tomorrow, or probably longer unless the Democratic members return to Washington in sufficient number to make a quorum.

P. R. A.

St. Louis, Oct. 8. A heavy hail storm succeeded by a cloud burst and a high wind broke over the western part of St. Louis today, flooding streets, breaking windows and tearing down trees and sign boards.

NEITHER SULZER NOR WIFE TESTIFY

said he had with the impeached executive early in September.

"I suggested to Mr. Sulzer," Ryan's testimony ran, "now that certain charges had been made against him, I did not see that he could afford to put himself in a position in which he could not answer the charges. He said the reason was that he did not want to drag his wife into the situation, and put her on the stand."

Managers Surprised.

The sudden announcement that the case for the defense was closed which came late this afternoon, created a profound sensation in the court room. Only a few days after the trail began Governor Sulzer told newspaper men that he would positively appear in his own defense. He said he would tell an "astounding story" that would force Charles F. Murphy, leader of Tammany Hall to take the stand. Up until a few days ago, the Governor was still insistent that he be allowed to tell his story but he finally yielded to the advice of his attorneys.

In preparing for this story as well as that expected from Mrs. Sulzer, counsel for the impeachment managers had in reserve half or a dozen more witnesses whom they had expected to put on in rebuttal.

Two of these witnesses were called before court adjourned today but Judge Cullen excluded their testimony They were George W. Egbert, a bank examiner in charge of the books of the now defunct Carnegie Trust Company and James C. Miller, an official of the Fifth Avenue Bank of New York. Egbert was ready to give evidence, Attorney Kresel said that would controvert the testimony that Mrs. Sulzer had an account in the Carcompany Trust Company or that the company had loaned the governor money on securities owned by her. By Mr. Miller Kresel continued, the managers proposed to show that Mrs. Sulzer had an account in the Fifth Avenue Bank, "during the campaign of 1912."

Deposited in Other Bank.

He said later, out of court, that Mrs. Sulzer's balance in this instance totalled about $200 early in October, 1912, and that it had increased to more than $4,000 by the end of the succeeding month."

Judge Cullen held that the introduction of their testimony would "inject new evidence and re-open the case."

Judge Cullen also refused to admit into evidence a story of alleged graft involving Duncan W. Peck, superintendent of public works, who testified early in the trial that Governor Sulzer had asked him to deny under oath that he had made a $500 campain contribution.

This story, counsel announced, they proposed to prove though John A. Hennessy, Governor Sulzer's special investigator and personal friend, who was called to the stand.

"We offer to show" pleaded Mr. Hinman, "that Duncan W. Peck when he went on the witness stand knew that an investigation of his department was being made, that frauds were being discovered therein and that if the respondent remained in office Peck must go."

"I don't see how you can go into that" Judge Cullen ruled. Mr. Hinman then suggested that Hennessy also could prove that William Sulzer has been a good Governor and has been discharging the duties of his office faithfully."

"I don't think you can go into that either" ruled the presiding Judge.

Governor's Case Thin.

The exclusion of this testimony practically placed the crux of the Governor's defense on the story of Louis A. Sarecky the Governor's campaign secretary told yesterday in which he assumed the blame for the Governor's failure to report his campaign contributions. Today John B. Stanchield put Sareck on the stand and continued a searching cross examination in an attempt to discredit his story.

"It was a battle of wits imputable and serenely poised. The governor's youthful lieutenant parried the attack of his inquisitor thrust for thrust. Many things he was unable to remember.

In addition to again insisting that the Governor had no knowledge that his campaign statement was inaccurate, Sarecky testified that notwithstanding a general knowledge of the laws describing a strict accunting of campaign money all documentary evidence relating thereto, evidently was destroyed.

Sarecky declared he had received and deposited in a Trust company to his own account about $12,500 [illegible] Sulzer contributions. He accou[illegible] for the expenditure of $7,524. Pre[illegible]ed for an explanation of the disposition of the balance, he said he had paid between $800, and $900 to settle a judgement obtained against Sulzer by Fred Hastings, of Seattle Washington. He said he advised the Governor that this claim had been settled out of campaign contributions. He was "utterly unable" to account for additional expenditures.

the bill when ex-Congressman Thomas C. MacRae, of Arkansas, took the floor. His attempted defense of the government was treated with derision. Mr. MacRae stood his ground saying "I am a banker myself but I am unwilling to sanction the language of Chairman Hepburn, of the currency commission when he charged the President and Congress of this republic with being a pack of socialists."

The question really at stake in the currency bill is 'shall the bankers control the currency of the country, or shall the government control it?"

From hundreds of voices there same the reply: "We should."

Congressman MacRae then exclaimed:

"Yes, in just the same way every criminal would like the right to be the judge of his own offense."

Congressman Hill characterized the bill as it now stands, "providing for a legalized government combination and monopoly as a substitute for the individual competitive enterprise of 25,000 independent banks orgonized under the existing laws of the States and nation."

BITS OF HISTORY.

THE CHICAGO FIRE

On October 8, 1871, Mrs. O'Leary's Cow kicked over the lantern and the city of Chicago was during the next two days almost completely burned. Out of the ashes immediately rose a city which, for its age, is the greatest the world has ever seen. The things that made the present city possible were ambition, determination and faith in the future.

Such attributes applied to our daily affairs would make us all independent in a few short years. Nearly every man can earn more than he is earning and can get along on less than he is spending.

On what you save this bank allows 4 per cent Interest, compounded quarterly.
